

THE ALUMNAE NEWS

Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

NOVEMBER 1939

THE ALUMNAE NEWS

Published Four Times a Year: July, November, February and April, by the Alumnae and Former Students Association of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro

MEMBER OF AMERICAN ALUMNI COUNCIL

CLARA BOOTH BYRD, Editor

OFFICERS AND BOARD MEMBERS

President, SUE RAMSEY JOHNSTON FERGUSON (MRS. R. S.)
Vice President, JULIA WATSON MAULDEN (MRS. PAUL)
Honorary President, LAURA H. COIT
General Secretary, CLARA B. BYRD

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Lillian I. Massey, Caroline Goforth Hogue (Mrs. Richard), Julia Lilly Montgomery Street (Mrs. C. A.), Martha Blakeney Hodges (Mrs. Luther), Marjorie Mendenhall, Dr. Mary Poteat, Marie Cranford Carter (Mrs. W. L.), Annie Lee Stafford Greenfield (Mrs. Kenneth), Margaret Gilbert, Vaughn White Holoman (Mrs. Henry D.).

Vol. XXVIII

NOVEMBER, 1939

No. 2

CONTENTS

	PAGE
AN ALUMNAE ALMANACK	1
ADVANCED DEGREES TAKEN BY GRADUATES OF WOMAN'S COLLEGE	2
THE DEAN'S PAGE W. C. Jackson	8
THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY	8
COME INTO ALUMNAE HOUSE	9
INTRODUCING NEW MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY	10
SHOP TALK	11
THE EUNICE KIRKPATRICK RANKIN LOAN FUND	11
FOUNDER'S DAY MESSAGES	11
CLARA BOOTH BYRD Marjorie Stafford Mendenhall	12
MENTAL HOBBIES AND ADULT EDUCATION Caroline Goforth Hogue '17	13
SPECIAL EVENTS IN AYCOCK AUDITORIUM	14
A MESSAGE FROM YOUR PRESIDENT Sue Ramsey Johnston Ferguson	14
HATTIE S. PARROTT	15
THE CLASSES HAVE THIS CORNER	15
ELIZABETH McIVER WEATHERSPOON—IN MEMORIAM Ruth Fitzgerald	16
RECENT GIFTS TO ALUMNAE HOUSE	16
AFFAIRS OF LOCAL CLUBS AND ASSOCIATIONS	17
NEWS FROM THE ALUMNAE	19
DUNES OF KITTY HAWK—(POEM) Christine Sloan	23
NECROLOGY	31
PORTRAIT OF AN AVERAGE EVENING—(POEM) Dorothy Edwards Summerow '30	32
CURRENT PUBLICATIONS BY MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY	32

Patronize Our Advertisers

	PAGE
E. A. Woodell—Printing	16
Vicks VapoRub	19
Sills—Shoes	20
Coble Sporting Goods Co.	20
The Mecca—Restaurant	20
Bernau Jewelry and Optical Co.	21
Fields—Ladies' Wear	21
Mangel's—Ladies' Wear	21
Greensboro Floral Co.	22
National Theatre	22
Greensboro Bowling Alleys	22
Mann's O. Henry Drug Store	22
Carolina Taxi	22
Ann Lewis—Ladies' Wear	22
Blue Bird Taxi	23
Greensboro Nehi Bottling Co.— Royal Crown Cola	24
Columbia Laundry	25
Sancton & Dickerson— Jewelers and Optometrists	25
Fatman-Smith Co.	25
Jos. J. Stone & Co.—Printing	26
Union Bus Station	27
Odell Hardware Company	28
Phil R. Carlton, Inc.— Real Estate, Insurance, etc.	29
The Grill—Eats	29
Seburn's, Inc.—Jewelers	30
Arnold's—Ladies' Wear	30
Sears, Roebuck & Co.	30
Ellis, Stone & Co.—Ladies' Wear	31
Dick's Laundry	31
Mannel's Restaurant	32
Montgomery Ward & Co.	32
Bell's Department Store	33
Coca-Cola Bottling Co.	33
Brownhill's—Ladies' Wear	Back Cover
Mock, Judson, Voelringer— Hosiery	Back Cover

An ALUMNAE ALMANACKE

of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

1891 Act of Establishment passed by State Legislature ❖ 1939

"The worth of a strong college to a student is not, as some suppose, the mere fact that it gives the opportunity to a student to perform systematic literary tasks assigned by teachers, or that it gives opportunity to work in laboratories and libraries. These are necessary and important, but the student's greatest advantage at college is the spiritual and mental atmosphere of the place. It is intangible, but you can feel it. It cannot be measured but its effect is everywhere manifest."

Charles D. McIver, the Founder.

SEPTEMBER							OCTOBER							NOVEMBER							DECEMBER
S	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	M	T	W	T	F	S	S	M	T	W	T	F	S
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31					29	30	31					29	30	31					29	30	31

There are approximately three million alumni and alumnae in America. This means that one out of every forty men, women, and children in this country has been exposed at least to the winds that blow upon a college campus. Eighty-six out of every one hundred names in Who's Who are those of college men and women.

Sept. 7, 1939. Meeting of Alumnae House Committee, Alumnae House.

Do not plant potatoes with onions when the moon is dark—their eyes will water.

Sept. 8, 1939. Meeting of Alumnae Board of Trustees, Alumnae House.

Oct. 27, 1891. The site of the White Girls' Normal was decided upon. The Daily Workman said: "It is just within the city limits and joins the truck farm of Rev. R. R. Moore, and the center of the lot is about northwest of the mineral springs."

Durham, Graham, Greensboro, Thomasville, competed for the new institution.

When Major Finger announced that it would be located in Greensboro, "the news spread over the city, and at an appointed hour the steam whistles, bells, and yells of the citizens broke loose, and everybody was happy."—News and Observer.

The mineral springs have long since been covered by a filling station, and the truck farm by campus and city blocks.

Oct. 5, 1892. The Normal School opened with 176 pupils.

Oct. 7, 1892. Moore's freestone spring was connected with the school buildings. "A force pump will be used and the inmates are assured the finest water in the country."—The Record.

Sept. 19, 1939. Woman's College, U.N.C., opened. 2,216 students enrolled.

Oct. 5, 1939. Founder's Day—college 47 years old. Day first observed 1910. "The girls wear white."

Dec. 7, 1892. About 75 students met last night and organized a Y.W.C.A. Bertha Lee '95 elected president. Miss Lee was afterwards head of the Department of German for many years.

Oct. 8, 1894. Practice and Observation School (now Curry) opened. Three grades.

Nov. 4, 1939. University of North Carolina Day, Chapel Hill. State vs. U.N.C.—football. Into Chapel Hill rolled seven hundred Woman's College girls. College Band, dressed in gold and white uniforms, played and paraded.

Nov. 30, 1939. Thanksgiving Holiday.
Students who take cuts two days before or two days after are not privileged to take final exams.

Dec. 19 - Jan. 4, 1940. Christmas Holidays.

The Woman's College of U.N.C. is one of three largest colleges for women in the United States. One of five in South to have Phi Beta Kappa.

June, 1942, and October, 1942. Fiftieth Commencement, and Fiftieth Anniversary of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

Committees of Trustees, Faculty, Alumnae are at work on plans for the commemoration.

Oct. 16, 1939. Sarah All Abernethy '19 played Chopin's "Ballade in A-Flat" in Alumnae House. Hazel Worsley '22 was with her.

Do not do any work on the last quarter—keep it and you'll not be broke.

"You have come to pay homage to the university of your love, and through it to all universities; because in them truth is sought, knowledge increased and stored, literature, science, and art are fostered, and honor, duty, and piety are taught. The spirit in which you come is a spirit of well-grounded hopefulness."

— President Eliot to the alumni, 250th anniversary of Harvard.

Advanced Degrees Taken by Graduates of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

For several years the Alumnae Office has been following up the additional study done by the graduates of this college. From the information which has been received, the record of the degrees taken beyond the bachelor's degree is printed here. The record is not complete. One purpose of publication at this time is the hope that the holders of advanced degrees whose names are not included will report such information to the Alumnae Office, so that our records may be more nearly exact, and that proper credit may be given in a subsequent published list.

By way of further explanation, the names of both graduates and non-graduates who have received an M.D. degree are listed, since candidates for this degree are not, except in a few cases, required to complete a regular college course before entering medical school. One Doctor of Jurisprudence has been reported and is included.

Numerous graduates of this college, having a bachelor's degree, have later done additional study at library school, receiving a bachelor's degree in this field. These names are not, of course, included.

Moreover, much other information has been compiled about additional study, but unless that additional study culminated in an advanced degree, it was not considered in this connection.

Under the general classification, for instance, Ph.D., M.A., the subject in which the degree was taken is given first. The name of the degree holder follows, with the name of the university from which the degree was granted appearing next. On the last line, the present occupation of the degree holder, according to the latest information in hand, is also given.

M. D.

Lulu Disoway

Woman's Medical College of Penn.
Physician and surgeon, St. Elizabeth's College, Shanghai, China, and professor of obstetrics, St. John's
Medical School, Shanghai

Edith Goodwin (Mrs. Jesse Barbour)

Woman's Medical College of Penn.
Practicing physician, Morgantown

Pattie J. Groves

Woman's Medical College of Penn.
Professor of hygiene and physician,
Mount Holyoke College

Ruth Dixon Henly

Woman's Medical College of Penn.
Private practice, obstetrics and gynecology, Winston-Salem

Elizabeth Hunter (Mrs. F. F. Lange)

University of Michigan
College physician, University of Minnesota

Sophie J. Kleegman

New York University College of Medicine
Fellow American College of Surgeons Gynecologist, New York City

Margaret Lawrence

College of Physicians and Surgeons,
Columbia University
Practicing physician, New York City

Mary MacFadyen

New York University
Practicing physician, New York City; newspaper columnist—"Health and Your Beauty"

Annie V. Scott

Woman's Medical College of Penn.
Associate professor of pediatrics,
Cheefoo Medical School, Shantung,
China

Margaret Castex Sturgis

Woman's Medical College of Penn.
Fellow, American College of Surgeons
Practicing physician and surgeon,
Philadelphia, Penn.

Vance Thompson (Mrs. F. O. Alexander)

Vanderbilt University
Homemaker

PH. D.

BOTANY

Velma D. Matthews

University of North Carolina
(M.A. University of North Carolina)
Professor of biology, Coker College

Vera Millsaps

(M.S. University of North Carolina)
University of North Carolina
Teacher of biology, McKinley High School, Washington, D. C.

CHEMISTRY

Mary Brannock (Mrs. L. E. Blauch)

(M.S. Chicago University)
Chicago University

Mary Kapp

(M.A. Mathematics, Duke University)
University of North Carolina
Teacher, chemistry and biology, Aver-ett College

EDUCATION

Mabel Rudisill

University of Wisconsin
Professor of elementary education,
Western Kentucky Teachers College

ENGLISH

Mary Eliason

(M.A. University of North Carolina)
University of North Carolina
Teacher of English, West Georgia College

Barnette Miller

Columbia University
Professor of history, Wellesley College

Mary Poteat

(M.A. Columbia University)
Duke University

Agnes Stout

(M.A. Woman's College, U.N.C.)
University of North Carolina
Professor and head of Department of English, Queens-Chicora College

Katharine Wilson (Mrs. W. E. White)

(M.A. University of North Carolina)
University of North Carolina
Formerly dean of college and professor of English, Cox College

GEOLOGY

Margaret Cobb

Bryn Mawr College
Geologist, Ameradi Petroleum Corp.

HISTORY

Nannie May Tilley

(M.A. Duke University)
Duke University

Marjorie Mendenhall

(M.A. Radcliffe College)
University of North Carolina
Teacher of history and political science, Bradford (Mass.) Junior College; magazine writer

PSYCHOLOGY

Elizabeth Duffy (Mrs. J. E. Bridgers)

(M.A. Columbia University)
Johns Hopkins University
Professor of psychology, Woman's College, U.N.C.

Mildred Mendenhall

University of North Carolina

Cheves West (Mrs. Scott Perky)

Cornell University
In educational work

SOCIOLOGY

Edith Webb (Mrs. M. II. Williams)

Cornell University
Instruction assistant, Department of Rural Social Organization, Cornell University, previous to marriage;
homemaker

ZOOLOGY

Irene Boliek

(M.S. University of North Carolina)
University of North Carolina
Instructor in zoology, Florida State
College for Women

Ezda Deviney

(M.S. Chicago University)
University of North Carolina
Head of department of zoology,
Florida State College for Women

Lorna W. Thigpen
University of Pittsburgh
Assistant professor of research genetics, Storrs Agricultural Experimental Station, Connecticut State College

Mary Jane Wharton (Mrs. W. N. Thayer III)
Yale University
Teacher of biology, Fieldston School, New York City

DOCTOR OF JURISPRUDENCE

Gladys Wells (Mrs. W. R. Ringer)
University of Michigan
Librarian Indianapolis Bar Association; also conducting classes in jurisprudence in the Indiana Law School

M. A. OR M. S.

ANATOMY

Emily Hearne Cafe
University of South Carolina
Associate professor, department of health and physical education, Texas State College for Women, Denton

BIOLOGY

Gertude Grimsley
Woman's College, U.N.C.
Teacher of science, Seven Springs High School

BOTANY

Frances Foust
University of North Carolina
Research work in department of agriculture, Washington City

Marie Jones (deceased)
University of Illinois

Edith Lambeth
Chicago University

Frances Summerell (Mrs. W. H. Stickney)
University of Pittsburgh
Teacher, Rio de Janeiro

Rebecca Ward (Mrs. J. P. Reynolds)
University of North Carolina
Dean (academic), Judson College, previous to marriage

Mary Williams Ward
University of North Carolina

Mimerva Waynick (Mrs. V. L. Kenyon, Jr.)
Duke University
Social work, Guilford County Welfare Department

CHEMISTRY

Louise K. Rotha
University of Chicago
Studying for Ph.D. in chemistry, New York University

Aline Saunders (Mrs. H. C. West)
Columbia University
Associate professor of chemistry, Converse College

Frances Tate
Smith College
Laboratory technician, Burlington General Hospital

Alice Whitson (Mrs. W. P. Epperson)
(deceased)

George Washington University
Instructor in chemistry, George Washington University

Kate Wilkins
Mount Holyoke College
Instructor in chemistry, Woman's College, U.N.C.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Mary Elizabeth Keister
University of Iowa
Principal, Nursery School, University of Chicago

DRAMA

Andrina McIntyre (Mrs. Creswell Micon)
School of Fine Arts, Yale University
Homemaker

ECONOMICS

Edna Douglas
University of North Carolina
Assistanceship at the University

Pauline Galloway
Columbia University
Organizer with labor unions

Eleanor Graves (Mrs. R. W. Torrens)
University of North Carolina
Taught economics in Hobart College previous to marriage; homemaker

EDUCATION

Rosa Abbott
Teachers College, Columbia University
Director, training of exceptional children, Greensboro

Anne Albright
Teachers College, Columbia University
Dean of women, Western Carolina Teachers College

Ethel Baugh
University of North Carolina
Teacher, fifth grade, Burgaw

Helen Burch
George Peabody College for Teachers
Teacher, Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone

Annie M. Cherry
Teachers College, Columbia University
Director of experimental programs in elementary education, State Department of Education, Raleigh

Dora Coals
Teachers College, Columbia University
Supervisor of practice teaching in primary grades, East Carolina Teacher's College

Margaret Coble
Teachers College, Columbia University
Director, Hillcrest School, Salisbury, Conn.

Mary Cody
Teachers College, Columbia University
Teacher, Edenton city schools

Rebecca Cushing (Mrs. S. A. Robertson)
Teachers College, Columbia University
State director of home economics education previous to marriage; homemaker

Daisy Jane Cuthbertson
Woman's College, U.N.C.
Teacher of primary work, Charlotte

Tempe Dameron
George Peabody College for Teachers
Supervisor of elementary schools, Queen Anne's County, Md.

Martha Faison
Teachers College, Columbia University
Teacher, Lockland School, Geneva, N. Y.

Helen Felder
Duke University
Primary teacher, Aycock School, Greensboro

Ruth Fitzgerald
Teachers College, Columbia University
Professor of education, Woman's College, U.N.C.

Lucille Foust
George Peabody College for Teachers
Head of Training School, State Teachers College, Livingston, Ala.

Ida Gardner
University of North Carolina
Teacher of English, Goldsboro High School

Carrie Glenn
George Peabody College for Teachers
Former supervisor of rural schools; teacher

Mamie Griffin (Mrs. F. Scarborough)
George Peabody College for Teachers
Nursery school work, State Department of Education, Ala.

Meriel Groves
Columbia University

Ruth Gunter
Columbia University
Assistant professor of education, Woman's College, U.N.C.

Ida Hankins
Columbia University
Principal, Mary Helms School, Songdo, Korea; ordained minister, Korean Methodist Church

Margaret Hayes
George Peabody College for Teachers
Assistant professor of guidance, New York State College for Teachers, Albany, N. Y.
Work practically finished for Ph.D. in psychology, Columbia University

Elizabeth Hyman
Teachers College, Columbia University
Critic teacher, East Carolina Teachers College

Mary Hyman
Teachers College, Columbia University
Teacher and elementary supervisor, Penderlea School, Willard

Mary John (Mrs. H. M. Rex)
Teachers College, Columbia University
Research department, Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Vera Keech
Teachers College, Columbia University
Rural Supervisor, Monroe County, Ala.

Katie King (Mrs. R. H. Williams)
Woman's College, U.N.C.
Teacher of science, Wilmington High School

Frances Lacy
George Peabody College for Teachers
Elementary supervisor, city schools,
Raleigh

Nan Lacy
George Peabody College for Teachers
Elementary supervisor, city schools,
Lexington, Ky.

Winnie Leach (Mrs. H. G. Duncan)
Columbia University
Principal of high school before marriage; homemaker

Meta Liles
University of North Carolina
Teacher, Appalachian State Teachers College

Mary K. Logan
Columbia University
Teacher, seventh grade, Old Fort

Hilda Flowe McCurdy (Mrs. W. B. Wray)
University of North Carolina
Teacher, Burnsville

Juanita McDougald (Mrs. W. T. Melchior)
Teachers College, Columbia University
Member of staff, North Carolina State Department of Education, previous to marriage; homemaker

Miriam McFadyen
Teachers College, Columbia University
Associate professor, department of education, Woman's College, U.N.C.

Lucille Meredith
Teachers College, Columbia University
Teacher, fifth grade in the laboratory school of State Teachers College, West Chester, Penn.

Victoria Mial
State College, Raleigh
Teacher, fifth grade, Raleigh Schools

Margaret C. Moore (Physical Education)
New York University
Graduate assistant, New York University, and continuing work toward Ph.D. degree

Florence Pannill
Teachers College, Columbia University
Principal, Lindley Elementary School, Greensboro

Nelle Richardson (Mrs. P. D. Cooke)
Columbia University
Homemaker

Margaret Rowlett
Teachers College, Columbia University
Teacher, primary work, New York City

Joyce Rudisill (Mrs. H. M. Long)
Columbia University
Homemaker

Anne Sharpe
Teachers College, Columbia University
Head of lower school, Graham-Eckes School, Daytona Beach, Fla.

Etta R. Spier (deceased)
Teachers College, Columbia University
Professor of education, Woman's College, U.N.C.

Rebecca Symmes
Teachers College, Columbia University
Teacher of method, New Rochelle, N. Y., High School

Ada Viele
Teachers College, Columbia University
Principal, Park View School, Mooresville

Susan Whitaker
Teachers College, Columbia University

Dorothy Yarbrough
Boston University
Teacher, sixth grade, Washington (D. C.) schools.

ENGLISH

Blanche Armfield
University of North Carolina
Teacher of English in high school previous to work with Social Security Board, Washington City

Sybil Barrington (Mrs. Marion Corbett)
University of North Carolina
Homemaker

Rosa Blakeney (Mrs. B. C. Parker)
Columbia University
Principal of elementary school, Albemarle

Rena Cole (Mrs. J. R. Parks III)
Woman's College, U.N.C.
Taught English in high school previous to marriage; homemaker

Marjorie Craig
University of North Carolina
Instructor in English, Brevard College

Elsie Crew (Mrs. T. W. Boyce)
University of North Carolina
Homemaker

Mildred Ellis
Columbia University
Teacher of English, Long Island High School

Sue Ervin (Mrs. J. A. Pulver)
Columbia University
Taught English in Woman's College of Constantinople previous to marriage; homemaker

Ola Irene Fleming
University of North Carolina
Wilson

Collie Garner
University of North Carolina
Teacher of English, Asheville High School

Caroline Goforth (Mrs. Richard Hogue)
George Washington University
Civic leader, Washington City

Maudie Goodwin (Mrs. Leonard Nurk)
Columbia University
Teacher in a school for the deaf, New York City

Katherine E. Grantham
Columbia University
Radio script writer

Kate Jeffreys (Mrs. M. C. Carmichael)
University of North Carolina
Teacher of English, Andrews High School

Eleanor Morgan (Mrs. T. E. Phipps)
University of Oklahoma
Homemaker

Elizabeth Murphy (Mrs. Peter L. K. Henderson)
University of North Carolina
Homemaker

Olive Newell (Mrs. R. H. Shepherd)
University of North Carolina
Homemaker

Annette May Osborne (Mrs. George Fullerton)
University of North Carolina
Teacher and social worker previous to marriage; homemaker

Janice Parker
Woman's College, U.N.C.
Dean of Women and head Department of English, Textile Institute, Spartanburg, S. C.

Cynthia Reeves
George Peabody College for Teachers
Principal, Irving Park School, Greensboro

Dixie Reid
George Peabody College for Teachers
Teacher; now selling the How and Why Library for Little Children

Elizabeth L. Seawell
Columbia University
Teacher, seventh grade, Chapel Hill

Gertrude Smith
Woman's College, U.N.C.

Jane Summerell
Columbia University
Associate professor of English, Woman's College, U.N.C.

Laura Sumner
Smith College
Teacher of English, Salem Academy

Grace Tilley
University of North Carolina

Pattie Turner
Columbia University
Associate professor of French, Georgia State College for Women

Daisy Bailey Waitt
Columbia University
Teacher of English and Latin in colleges

Evelina Wiggins
Columbia University
Teacher of English, Lynchburg (Va.) High School

Eugenia C. Woody
Columbia University
Teacher in public schools

FINE ARTS

Brooks Johnson (Mrs. Herbert Silvette)
Columbia University
Artist; teacher of art, Charlottesville, Va.

Lillian Morris
Columbia University
Teacher of foreign languages, Boyden High School, Salisbury

FRENCH

- Alice Armfield
Chicago University
Instructor in language department,
Olivet College
- Annie Beam (Mrs. Kemp Funderburk)
University of North Carolina
Student counsellor and instructor in French, Woman's College, U.N.C.
- Alma Kerr Blount
University of North Carolina
Teacher of French, Roanoke Rapids
High School
- Ruth Campbell
University of North Carolina
Teacher of French, Erskine College, Due West, S. C.
- Grace Frazier
University of North Carolina
Head of language department in junior college
- Katherine Gregory (Mrs. E. F. Richards)
Johns Hopkins University
Instructor of French and Spanish,
University of Alabama
- Rosalyn Gardner
University of North Carolina
Working for Ph.D. at University of North Carolina
- Annie Preston Heilig
Woman's College, U.N.C.
Director of foreign language department,
Winston-Salem High Schools, teacher of French, Reynolds
High School
- Margaret Horsfield
Columbia University
Assistant professor of romance languages,
University of Kentucky
- Jessie LeGrand
Columbia University
Professor of romance languages,
Bluefield Junior College
- Drusilla Martin
University of North Carolina
- Estelle Mitchell
Columbia University
Teacher of French, Greensboro High School
- Maxalyn Mourane
University of North Carolina
Teacher of French, Marietta (Ga.)
High School
- Katherine Taylor
Radcliffe College
Assistant professor, romance language department, and student counsellor, Woman's College, U.N.C.
- Katherine Tighe
Columbia University
Teacher of French, Asheville High
School
- Mary Wood Wolfe
Columbia University
Teacher of French, Leona (N. J.)
High School

GOVERNMENT

- Mattie Erma Edwards
University of North Carolina
Collector for the Hall of History,
North Carolina Historical Commission,
Raleigh

HISTORY

- Nita Andrews
University of North Carolina
Teacher, Rockingham High School
- Leah Boddie
Duke University
Dean of students, New Jersey College for Women
- Hattie Burch
Columbia University
- Julia Cherry (Mrs. C. P. Spruill, Jr.)
University of North Carolina
Author, "Women's Life and Work in the Southern Colonies"
- Rachel Cordle
University of North Carolina
Teacher of history, Elon College High School
- Helen Dugan
University of Chicago
Supervising teacher of history,
Greenville High School
- Martha Hamilton (Mrs. E. C. Morgan)
Columbia University
Taught history in Converse College
previous to marriage; homemaker
- Edna Harvey (Mrs. W. H. Bagwell III)
Columbia University
Taught history in college previous to marriage; homemaker
- Josephine Hege
University of Virginia
Instructor in history, Woman's College,
U.N.C.
- Margaret Hight
University of North Carolina
Professor of history, Saint Mary's Seminary, St. Mary's City, Md.
- Mary Holley
Cornell University
Teacher of English and history, Burlington
High School
- Matilda Lattimore (Mrs. R. W. Morris)
Columbia University
Teacher of history, Shelby High
School
- Mary E. McNairy (deceased)
Columbia University
Taught history in Greensboro High School
- May M. Meador
Woman's College, U.N.C.
Head social science department, High Point High School
- Berta Melvin
Columbia University
Teacher, fifth grade, Bessemer schools
- Katherine Moser
University of Chicago
Taught in department of history,
Woman's College; now studying for Ph.D. degree in history, Chicago University
- Margaret Moser
University of Chicago
Teacher of art, Greensboro High
School
- Mary Powell (Mrs. W. T. H. Brantley)
Duke University
Teacher of social science, Raleigh
High School
- Rachel Scarborough (Mrs. J. F. Arthur)
Columbia University
Taught history in high school previous to marriage
- Lelia J. Tuttle
Columbia University
Head, department of history, and acting dean of women, Soochow
(China) University
- Martha Wiswall
Columbia University
Teacher of history in Aiken (S. C.)
High School
- Katherine Wolf (Mrs. W. P. Brandon)
University of North Carolina
Taught political science in college previous to marriage; homemaker
- Emily Wright
Columbia University
Teacher of social science, Tarrytown
(N. Y.) High School

HOME ECONOMICS

- Evelyn Bangert
Teachers College, Columbia University
Assistant dietitian, Montefiore Hospital,
New York City
- Agnes Cox
Columbia University
Assistant professor, department of home economics, Woman's College,
U.N.C.
- Belva R. Farmer
University of Iowa
Dietitian, Baptist Memorial Hospital,
Memphis, Tenn.
- Lidie Pierce Horton
Columbia University
Teacher of home economics, High
Point High School
- Laura Howard
Columbia University
Teacher of home economics, Erskine College, Due West, S. C.
- Sue Ramsey Johnston (Mrs. R. S. Ferguson)
Teachers College, Columbia University
Dietitian; teacher; home service director previous to marriage; homemaker
- Frances Kernodle
Columbia University
Business director of Woman's Building,
University of Texas
- Wilyon Medlock (Mrs. R. B. Kennan)
Columbia University
Homemaker
- Mary E. York
Iowa State College
Head of teacher training department in home economics, Winthrop College

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

- Josephine Rudisill (Mrs. James Schout)
Columbia University
Homemaker

KINDERGARTEN

- Mariam Hardin
Columbia University

LATIN

Julia Dameron
Columbia University
Teacher of Latin, Woman's College,
U.N.C., for number of years

LIBRARY SCIENCE OR LIBRARY SERVICE

Daisy L. Anderson
Columbia University
Librarian, State Teachers College,
East Radford, Va.

Annie Goodloe Browne
Columbia University
Librarian, Wells College, Aurora, N. Y.

Flossie Foster
Columbia University
Librarian and teacher of library science,
State Teachers College, Kutztown, Pa.

Charhine Jones (Mrs. J. W. Pierce)
Columbia University
Reference Librarian, Swarthmore
College Library

MATHEMATICS

Hallie Beavers
Duke University
Teacher of high school mathematics,
Canal Zone

Ione Grogan
Columbia University
Student counsellor, Woman's College,
U.N.C.

Alma Kiser
University of North Carolina
Teacher of mathematics, Greensboro
High School

Ira Belle Moore
Columbia University
Teacher of mathematics, Greensboro
High School

Flora Pearsall
University of North Carolina

Mary Louise Resesp (Mrs. S. J. Irvin)
Columbia University
Teacher, Durham Junior High School

MEDICAL ENTOMOLOGY

Alice Thomas (Mrs. Dan F. Ashton)
Johns Hopkins University
State Laboratory of Hygiene, Raleigh

MUSIC EDUCATION

Carlofta Barnes (Mrs. C. B. Jacoby)
Columbia University
Teacher in Greensboro City Schools

Nina McDavid (Mrs. C. A. Yost)
Columbia University
Private studio; professional accompanist

Matilda Morlock
Columbia University
Instructor, department of music education,
State Teachers College,
West Chester, Pa.

NEW TESTAMENT

Euline Smith
Scarritt College
Missionary in Korea; ordained minister,
Korean Methodist Church

NURSING

Alice Johnson
Yale University School of Nursing
Instructor and assistant superintendent

ent of nurses, Boston Floating Hospital

Mary N. Corbett
Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing, Western Reserve University
General duty nursing, university hospitals,
Cleveland, O.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mary Brandt
Teachers College, Columbia University
Head, physical education department for women, Yenching University, China, previous to recent return to this country

Virginia Butler
Columbia University
Head, department of physical education,
Stuart Hall, Staunton, Va.

Nellie-Bond Dickinson
Columbia University
Instructor in dancing, Department of Physical Education, Florida State
College for Women
(Studied dancing last year in New York City with Martha Graham)

Edith Haight
Columbia University
Teacher of Physical Education, Eastern Illinois State Teachers College

Priscilla Mullen
Columbia University
Formerly director department of health and physical education,
Gunston Hall School, Washington
City

Mary Collins Powell
Columbia University
Director of physical education, Mary
Baldwin College

Frances Radisill (Mrs. Alfred Wheeler)
Columbia University
Homemaker

Loula C. Woody
New York University

PHYSICS

Loetta Willis
University of North Carolina

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Julia Ross (Mrs. W. L. Lambert)
Columbia University
Teacher, fifth grade, Asheboro schools

PUBLIC LAW

Resalie Jacobi (Mrs. Harriss Newman)
Columbia University
Homemaker

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Octavia Clegg (Mrs. George L. Waters)
Scarritt College
Missionary; wife of minister

Elizabeth Cowan
Hartford Seminary
Y.W.C.A. Secretary, University of Kentucky

Elizabeth Draughon
Baptist Woman's Missionary Union
Training School
Director of religious education, Lexington Avenue Baptist Church,
Danville, Ky.

Miriam Goodwin
Hartford Seminary Foundation
Director of religious education, Columbia Heights Community Church,
St. Albans, Long Island

Florence Ledbetter
Hartford School of Religious Education
Case worker, Salvation Army, Charlotte

Louise Maddrey
Columbia University
Assistant to dean, Hollins College

Margaret Rouzer (Mrs. J. R. Ingram)
General Assembly Training School,
Richmond
Director of young people's work in church previous to marriage; homemaker

SOCIAL ADMINISTRATION AND SOCIAL WORK

Eloise Banning
Western Reserve University
Social work supervisor, W.P.A.,
Winston-Salem

Elizabeth Barrington
University of Pittsburgh

Julia Brown
University of Southern California
Mecklenburg county welfare department

Ruth Cobb
Western Reserve University
Supervising students at the Cleveland
Children's Bureau

Evelyn Patricia Cummings
Smith College
Assistant field supervisor and assistant district supervisor, California
State Relief Administration, San Francisco

Ruth Dodd
Western Reserve University
Case work supervisor, School of Public Welfare and Social Work,
University of North Carolina

Marion Holoman (Mrs. Floyd Fowler)
Western Reserve University
Social worker previous to marriage;
homemaker

Barbara Lincoln
University of Pittsburgh
Burke County (N. C.) Welfare Department

Evelyn McNeill (Mrs. R. J. Sims)
William and Mary College
Instructor in sociology at Woman's College previous to marriage; homemaker

Lizzie Adams Powers (Mrs. H. L. Miller)
William and Mary College, Richmond
Division
Case worker previous to marriage;
homemaker

Rebecca Randolph
William and Mary College, Richmond
Division

Alice Reid
William and Mary College, Richmond
Division
Social worker

Helen Shuford
Smith College
Social worker, Washington City

Helen Seifert (Mrs. O. A. Kafer)

Western Reserve University
Homemaker

Elizabeth Thompson

William and Mary College, Richmond
Division
Social worker, Philadelphia

Gertrude Turner

William and Mary College
Child welfare assistant, Iredeil County

Martine Wright (Mrs. Warren McNeill)

William and Mary College, Richmond
Division
Social worker previous to marriage;
homemaker

S O C I O L O G YKatherine Lewis Barrier

University of North Carolina
Social worker. Wake County Public Welfare Department

Mabel Boysworth (Mrs. Coyle E. Moore)

University of North Carolina
Executive secretary, Institute for Research in the Social Sciences, University of Virginia, previous to marriage; homemaker

Margaret Bridgers

University of North Carolina
Visiting teacher, Hartford, Conn.

Katherine Fleming (Mrs. W. H. Middleton)

University of North Carolina
Social worker previous to marriage;
homemaker

Clara Guignard (Mrs. Robert Faris)

University of Chicago
Homemaker; research worker

Martha Hall (Mrs. L. W. Clarke)

University of Chicago
Wife of minister

Frances Hampton (Mrs. Noah Goodridge)

University of North Carolina
Taught in high school previous to marriage; homemaker

Margaret Heinsberger (Mrs. Abraham Moscow)

New York University
Homemaker

Lorena Kelly

Scarritt College
Missionary in Africa for the Methodist Church

Lillian D. Pearson (Mrs. Hugh P. Brinton, Jr.)

University of North Carolina
Member of staff, National Institute of Health, Washington, D. C.

Rachel Payne Sugg

Columbia University
Superintendent public welfare, Green County

Elizabeth Whitbeck (Mrs. C. H. Donovan)

University of North Carolina
Teacher of economics in college previous to marriage; homemaker

S P A N I S HMargaret Perry

University of North Carolina
Former associate professor of Spanish, Greensboro College

Gwendolyn MacMullin

University of North Carolina
Student, Katharine Gibbs Secretarial
School

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCEFloride Cartey Johnson (Mrs. W. J.
Donnelly)

Columbia University
Connected with business firm

Z O O L O G YEleanor Barton

Columbia University
Teacher of science, Greensboro High
School

Nannie M. Smith (Mrs. James W.
Davis)

University of North Carolina
Assistant to pathologist previous to marriage; homemaker

CERTIFICATE IN SOCIAL WORK

(This list is added because certificates given by the schools named are regarded as equivalent to the M.A. degree.)

Ruth Clinard

Bryn Mawr
Executive secretary, American Red Cross, Greensboro

Helene Coogan

Bryn Mawr
Business and industrial secretary,
Y.W.C.A., Rochester, N. Y.

Constance Lam

New York School of Social Work
Relief work, Nanking, China

Avery McConnell (Mrs. R.L.D. Hood)

New York School of Social Work
Case work supervisor, Mecklenburg
County Welfare Department

Betty Sloan (Mrs. J. S. McAlister, Jr.)

New York School of Social Work
Social worker previous to marriage;
homemaker

The two new residence halls, temporarily called A and B. Now occupied by 290 students —From the architect's drawing.

THE DEAN'S PAGE

I wish to express my appreciation of the courtesy extended by the Board of Trustees of the Alumnae Association in asking for a "Dean's Page" or "Column" in each issue of the Alumnae News. I shall gladly comply with the request and attempt to give the alumnae from time to time such information as will be of interest and value. The Woman's College continues to grow—in physical equipment, in number, in the quality and character of its faculty, and, I believe, in genuine educational and spiritual value. Based upon its splendid record of achievement, we are endeavoring to keep it on its true course of service to all of our people and especially to the women of the state and the nation. The college on the campus wants to keep in close touch with the college beyond the campus. The Alumnae News is, of course, the best means of doing this. It has made a notable record in performing this service, and the administration is honored in the opportunity to contribute to it.

OUT-OF-STATE STUDENTS

Since there has been so much inquiry, discussion, and misinformation or misunderstanding about our policy concerning out-of-state students, I wish to make some explanation of this situation. During the first years of the College such a small number of students from outside the state applied for admission that no problem existed. Over a period of years the total number of such students was very small. Gradually the applications increased. Dr. Foust took the position that it was a wholesome thing for the College to have good students from outside the state; that it gave strength and character to North Carolina girls to be associated with representative girls from other states. The number and quality of out-of-state students gradually and steadily increased under his administration. The reputation of the College beyond the borders of the state was constantly advanced by these students as well as through other avenues, and the number of such applications began to assume larger proportions. So it came about that in the past few years the situation has become a "problem." It has been a basic consideration all along that no North Carolina girl, properly qualified for admission, should be refused. This policy we have maintained except in two particulars during the past two years. These two exceptions apply to the Commercial Department and to transfers. A word of explanation about the Commercial Department is necessary. Registration in this course was limited to 80 up until the depression when total registration of the college fell off and the demand for this course greatly increased. We then took all who applied, and we reached a maximum of 267 in that course in 1936. Since that date, with increased applications for the four-year courses, we have steadily reduced the number. This year we have 150. We had to refuse a large number of applications for this course last year and this. No out-of-state students are now admitted to the commercial course.

We have also refused some applications of transfers from other colleges this year. This is due in part, at least, to the action of the last General Assembly. You will recall the fight in that body for increased tuition charges, and the final decision that there should be no increase in tuition for North Carolina students. However, the budget adopted by the General Assembly made it necessary for us to increase tuition charges on out-of-state students (they already paid $50 more than in-state students) to the extent of $22,500. After careful consideration, the decision was made that an additional charge of $75 for out-of-state students was right. This meant that we must have an average of 300 out-of-state students over the year to produce the required revenue. As a result of this policy, we have admitted this year 331 out-of-state students. I may add at this point that we had 430 new applications from out-of-state students this year, an increase of 103 over last year. So far, we have not refused admission to any North Carolina girl for a four-year course (except transfers) who was qualified for admission. The number of applications for admission from both in-state and out-of-state students has grown rapidly in the past few years. The total number of applications last year was 2,798. The total number for this year for 3,054. We shall continue the policy now in effect of meeting the demands of the General Assembly with reference to increased revenue and at the same time doing our utmost not to refuse any North Carolina applications. If the applications continue to increase as they have in recent years, it will not be possible for us to do this. We will do our best to administer the situation with wisdom and justice. I want to speak in highest praise of our out-of-state students. They have been a superior group. I want to speak also in highest praise of our own students in their relation to them. The kind of sportsmanship and fair play and comradeship that exists among all of these students is one of the priceless possessions of the College.

W. C. Jackson

The Fiftieth Anniversary

In 1942, our college will celebrate its 50th anniversary. Committees have been appointed, with Dr. Jackson as general chairman. Under his general direction, Laura Weil Cone is chairman of the Trustees' Committee; Jane Summerell, of the Faculty, of the Alumnae Committee; and Hattie S. Parrott, of the Alumnae Committee. These three groups are initiating plans which include among other things, the publication of memorial volumes and a history of the college; the raising of fellowships, scholarships, and loan funds; a homecoming for the alumnae. Many distinguished guests and visitors will also be expected.

Plans have not yet been sufficiently worked out to be announced. The important thing for us to know at present is that the celebration has been scheduled—that it is coming, and that everything possible will be done to make this commemoration notable and distinguished from every point of view. Decide now to be a part of it.

Come into Alumnae House

This fall has been an open season for hospitality in Alumnae House, as well as a time of busy activity in general. The alumnae offices hum during the day, and sometimes they are a-light at night, with the sound of typewriters going. Offices which the students occupy on the garden floor—Pine Needles, Carolinian, Coraddi, Student Government Association, are likewise seats of activity during the day, and far, far into the night—well, until the watchman comes around jingling his keys and the hands of the clock point to the lock-in hour in the dormitories!

Some 2,000 students have had their individual pictures made in the Pine Needles office, for inclusion in the yearbook. The regular weekly issues of the Carolinian have appeared. Coraddi has come out. And justice has been dispensed around the great horse-shoe table. In the assembly room, sometimes called the organization room (though James and Sophie will have it "the little chapel"), hundreds of feet have tramped in and out for vesper services, for meetings of the sociology club, the speaker's club, the classical club, the Wesley players, the debater's club, le cercle Francaise, the math club, and what will you.

Alumnae, faculty, students, friends have met and mingled at teas, receptions, lectures, musicals, in the stately reception hall, the library, the living room, the pecky cypress room, and on the balcony. Here the executive committee of the Guilford Alumnae Association mapped out plans which resulted in raising their Scholarship Fund. Here the Alumnae Board of Trustees, and committees, have reviewed and planned their work. Miss Grace More and her Madrigals entertained at tea, with music, on a Sunday afternoon. The North Carolina Garden School, which brought to the campus 350 women from all parts of the state, meeting in Students' Building under the sponsorship of the college, gathered in this place of beauty to demonstrate the perfectly appointed tea table, the perfect flower arrangement. For the first time the Queen Anne table was centered with a great bronze tray of fruit in autumn colors; tapers burned in brass candelabra, and tea was poured from brass samovars.

The Home and Family Life Institute, joint production of the College, the Department of Home Economics, the State Department of Education, and other groups, conferred in what they described as "this perfect environment" about many matters which relate to the home. The Education Club scheduled here its peak meeting of the fall, heard an address by Dr. Clyde Erwin, and had tea in his honor around a pretty table. On a starry October night, you could have seen the lovely ladies and gentlemen of the faculty, and their wives, discovering how amazingly attractive their colleagues were when seen in their best silk and broadcloth, with classroom lectures and term papers quite forgotten. The Greensboro chapter of the A. A. U. W. combined business, music, and poetry to make a successful occasion when their presiding officer stood beneath the Virginia Dare mural in Alumnae House. Methodist women of North Carolina—500 strong—who had come with their husbands, or as delegates, to the first great united conference, held in Greensboro, met one another in Alumnae House at a tea on a Saturday afternoon. Many of them toured the House and told its praises as they toured.

VIEW OF THE RECEPTION HALL — ALUMNAE HOUSE

Mural over fireplace — "Christening of Virginia Dare"

During Religious Emphasis Week, from top to bottom Alumnae House served. Bedrooms for the distinguished guests to sleep in; bedrooms to rest in; the sitting room for departures and arrivals; the "little chapel," the green horseshoe table, the publication offices, for seminars and conferences; the green living room, the reception hall, the library, for teas.

The editor of Vogue held forth here too when she made a repeat visit in November to impress good taste, good grooming, good manners.

The faculty wives and the D.A.R.s have poured tea from the new silver services, and enjoyed their cakes and cookies on the old English china and the Heisey glassware.

The four posters downstairs, and the little maples in the attic have ministered to the comfort of Alumnae Board and committee members from time to time.

Alumnae House as a center of hospitality is serving alumnae, faculty, students, and friends. It has enabled the Alumnae Association to add hospitality to the usual program of work. It has given us headquarters; it is indeed, as the president of a famous university said, the union station, through which the lines of alumnae work pass, and move on out into the state, the nation, and the world.

INTRODUCING New Members of the Faculty

WHO HAVE BEEN ADDED TO THE DEPARTMENTS AS INDICATED

ART

Mrs. Mary Leath Stewart, assistant professor. B.A. Georgia State College for Women; M.A. Duke University; student of Eliot O'Hara, Washington City, and of Stanley Woodward, Boston. Taught in schools of Conway, S. C., Durham and Greensboro, N. C.; taught in summer sessions at Duke University, University of North Carolina, and Woman's College.

Helen Thrush, assistant professor. B.F.A. University of Pennsylvania; M.A. Columbia University; student Barnes Foundation; student of distinguished artists in United States and Europe. Taught for eight years in Florida State College for Women.

BIOLOGY

Virginia Gangstad, instructor. B.A., M.A., Ph.D. University of Illinois. Assistantship University of Illinois 1934-1937 and summer of 1937.

CHEMISTRY

Frances Roberg, assistant. B.S. Wellesley College. During her undergraduate course, student assistant in Chemistry.

ECONOMICS

Brant Bonner, instructor. B.A. University of Chicago; graduate work University of Toronto. University of North Carolina. Taught at Washington and Lee University.

EDUCATION

Dorothy Allen, instructor. B.A. New Jersey College for Women; M.A. Columbia University.

Mrs. Marguerite C. Ogden, instructor. B.S. and M.A. Teachers College, Columbia University.

ENGLISH

Christiana McFadyen, instructor. B.A. Woman's College of the University of North Carolina; M.A. Columbia University.

HEALTH

Dr. Bernice Eversmeyer, assistant physician. B. S. University of Wisconsin; M.D. University of Iowa.

Mrs. D. G. Tuck, nurse.

HOME ECONOMICS

Helen Kirk, assistant in laboratory. B.S. Woman's College of the University of North Carolina; graduate study at University of Washington.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Anna Scott Hoye, instructor. B.A. Lynchburg College; M.A. University of Wisconsin.

Jean Brownlee, instructor. Lindenwood College; B.A. University of Nebraska; Bennington School of the Dance; Mary Weigman School of the Dance. Teacher Omaha public schools; teacher Iowa State College.

PHILOSOPHY

John A. Clark, associate professor. B.A. Amherst; M.A. and Ph.D. Harvard University. Instructor in Carlton College; associate professor Earlham College.

PSYCHOLOGY

Marion E. Stanland, psychometric assistant. B.A. Huntington College; M.A. University of Minnesota; graduate work

Columbia University. Taught in the public schools of Mobile, Alabama, and in the Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota.

PHYSICS

Ruth Gill, assistant in Physics. B.A. '38 Woman's College of the University of North Carolina; graduate student Duke University 1938-39.

SECRETARIAL SCIENCE

Mrs. C. L. Lowrance, instructor. B.A. Winthrop College; M.A. University of Pittsburgh; Bowling Green College; University of Tennessee. Taught in the public schools of Asheville.

Cly Harmon, instructor. B.S. Appalachian State Teachers College; Bowling Green Business University. Principal rural elementary school; high school teacher.

SOCIOLOGY

Grace Hilford, assistant. B.S. '39 Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. Summer work Irene Kauffman Settlement House.

LIBRARY

Emma Linton Holman, reserve librarian. B.A. College of William and Mary; B.A. in Library Science, University of North Carolina.

Florence Shelburne, assistant librarian. Curry School. B.A. Lynchburg College; B.S. Peabody College. Taught in high schools and served as librarian in high school.

FACULTY MEMBERS WHO HAVE RETURNED FROM LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Blanche Tansil, associate professor of Home Economics, who studied at Columbia University last year. Miss Tansil is instructor of institution economics courses, and manager of the Home Economics Cafeteria.

Josephine Hege, who studied at the University of Virginia. Miss Hege is instructor in the Department of History.

Dorothy Clement, who studied at Northwestern University. She is instructor in the School of Music.

Christine White, who studied at Boston University, is assistant professor in the Physical Education Department.

FACULTY MEMBERS ON LEAVE FOR YEAR

George M. Joyce, head of the Commercial Department, who is doing advanced study at the University of Pittsburgh.

Hope Tisdale, Physical Education Department, who is spending another year at the University of North Carolina.

May Bush, English Department, who is doing a second year of advanced study at Johns Hopkins University.

Edith Vail, Physical Education Department, who is studying at Harvard University.

from one to two. Teas and musical vespers were also a part of the program. Local arrangements were in the hands of a Committee of 100, composed of faculty, students, and townspeople, of which Miss Bernice Draper and Anne Tiltinghast were respectively faculty-student co-chairmen. Miss Rowland was program chairman, and Mr. C. W. Phillips served as executive secretary.

The purpose of Religious Emphasis Week as defined by the Committee of 100 was: "to enlarge and clarify the meaning of religion and religious practices; to emphasize the values of religion for effective, happy living, and to provide opportunities and resources for continuing spiritual growth." To what extent this purpose was achieved it is of course too early to judge. Perhaps it would seem more nearly right to think that the results will be cumulative and will express themselves in individual living through the years. Certainly the group of leaders who came among us left upon the campus the impress of their own personalities, and the philosophy of living which they taught.

The Eunice Kirkpatrick Rankin Loan Fund

The Atlanta Alumnae Club has established at this college a loan fund for students, named in honor of Eunice Kirkpatrick Rankin '01, for a number of years president of the Atlanta Club. The amount already paid in is $60.00. The sum will be loaned to a member of the Class of 1940 to help her remain in college and complete her work this year.

The fund is most happily named, not only because Mrs. Rankin was a leader among the Atlanta alumnae, but also because of her unflinching interest in the college, and loyalty to its best interests. Moreover, shortly before her death, she had herself expressed the wish to contribute to a loan fund at her alma mater.

The Loan Fund Committee of the Atlanta Club is composed of Eva Lee Sink Weir, chairman; Florence Smith Cannon, and Etta Allred Brannon. Under their leadership the fund is being raised cooperatively by the whole group, and it is the hope of the club to increase it to a more considerable amount.

To the committee, and to each alumna in Atlanta who is aiding in this project, the College and the Alumnae Association extends sincerest appreciation.

With Reference to Meals at the Home Economics Cafeteria

When it became necessary at the opening of college to place a restriction on the patronage of the Home Economics Cafeteria, the following notice was sent to the Alumnae Office for publication in the Alumnae News:

The Home Economics Cafeteria is open only to the patronage of the faculty and students of the Woman's College and their guests, and special guest card holders. Special guest cards will be issued up to operating capacity and may be secured in Office No. 4, Home Economics Building.

This ruling would seem to prohibit alumnae from taking meals at the cafeteria, unless they could secure guest cards. This is true with regard to alumnae who live in Greensboro. But with regard to alumnae who may be visiting on the campus, Dean Jackson says, "Certainly the Home Economics Cafeteria is open to visiting alumnae. We want to make it perfectly plain that visiting alumnae on the campus are always welcome to take their meals in the cafeteria without securing any card. We regret the necessity of placing any restriction whatsoever on the patronage of the cafeteria, but we were finding difficulties that we had to face and we had to make some regulations."

Founder's Day Messages

Best wishes for you and the college in all undertakings.—Em Austin, Tarboro.

Greetings to faculty and students! On this birthday occasion I pledge anew my steadfast loyalty to the noblest interests of my Alma Mater. May your daughters everywhere reflect in their daily living the ideals of unselfish service expressed at our College and become couriers of peace and goodwill in this disturbed world of ours.—Annie M. Cherry, Raleigh.

Duplin County Association. Greetings on the 47th anniversary!—Ella Long Gooding, Chairman.

Spring Hope Alumnae Club. Greetings on Founder's day. Long may you live!—Ivy Lane Wilder, Secretary.

Stanly County Association. Greetings on Founder's Day. Best wishes for the future.

Wilson County Association. As we meet today, we send love and best wishes to our College on its 47th birthday.—Margaret Watson, Chairman.

Gaston County Association. Greetings from your Gaston County daughters.—Fan Darlington Todd, Chairman.

Shop Talk

Founder's Day

The day was observed on the campus with a special chapel service at eleven o'clock in Aycock. Dean Jackson presided, and read Dr. McIver's favorite chapter in the Bible, the 13th chapter of First Corinthians. President Graham was the featured speaker. Mrs. R. S. Ferguson, president of the General Alumnae Association, talked. Miss Jane Summerell, chairman of the Faculty Committee on the Five-Year Plan (Fiftieth Anniversary of the College), also spoke. The Alumnae Secretary read the names of those of our number who had died during the year. The college choir, directed by Mr. Thompson, rendered appropriate music.

The New Residence Halls

The two new dormitories, of Georgian architecture, connected as one building, but administered as separate units, are located in the edge of Peabody Park, closing the north end of the quadrangle. They are lovely halls of residence, both as to exterior and interior. Moreover, they have many features which make for happy and home-like living—the larger social rooms and sitting rooms, tastefully furnished; the libraries, kitchens, and pressing rooms, to say nothing of running water in every bedroom. The halls house 290 students. At present they are called "A" and "B."

Religious Emphasis Week

During the week of October 22-27, the University Christian Mission of New York sent some 20 religious leaders, men and women, to this campus, for platform lectures, seminars, group discussions and conferences, and personal interviews—all on pertinent religious questions. Women leaders lived in the dormitories, one for two dormitories, where they were continuously available for personal conferences with the students about any religious problem. The addresses in the evening were given in Aycock Auditorium and were open to the public.

From five to six each afternoon, seven seminars were conducted on different subjects. Lectures were scheduled in Students' Auditorium daily

Clara Booth Byrd

By

MARJORIE STRATFORD MENDENHALL

At the September meeting, the Board of Trustees of the Alumnae Association directed me to write an article about the Executive Secretary of the Association. If I can make clear the extent of the work which Miss Byrd has done and is doing—including the administration of Alumnae House, and something of her personal qualities, I shall be glad that I was given the assignment.

Eighteen years ago when Miss Byrd was selected by our Alumnae Association to fill the post of Alumnae Secretary and editor of the Alumnae News, she found no alumnae office, only a desk in a college office; she found no statistics, only a few pages of miscellaneous data. And the Alumnae News was a small sheet given over more to college than alumnae news. In the years that have elapsed since that time, her achievements have been diverse. (1) She has established and developed an alumnae office as (a) a place of records, and (b) a service station for approximately fifty-five local clubs and associations and the forty-seven classes, and for the college on the campus; (2) she has enlarged and improved the Alumnae News to a point where it is recognized as outstanding, even among the subsidized alumnae magazines; (3) she has spoken as effectively as any officer of the college to (a) alumnae groups in the state and as far afield as Massachusetts, New York, Illinois, Mississippi, (b) the American Alumni Council, and (c) the Legislature; (4) she has appreciated the significance of the adult education movement and has instigated and promoted alumnae seminars; (5) she has sponsored and furthered the building of Alumnae House to so great a degree that some have said that but for her it would not have been built; (6) she has organized alumnae clubs and associations; and (7) she has served the American Alumni Council in various executive capacities so effectively as to win highest praise.

The Alumnae Association offices at the college today are five. Three of these are work rooms, one is a reception room, and the other is the executive secretary's private office. In these rooms have been and are being assembled and ordered a vast amount of information about our alumnae and about matters of interest to alumnae. This information is arranged (a) alphabetically, (b) by classes, (c) by locality, (d) in a biographical set-up, and (e) by married names. The class and locality lists are permanently set up on the addressograph ready for immediate use. It is the marvel of alumnae in general that Miss Byrd not only gets the material on the cards, but that she has most of it in her mind as well. There are few alumnae names that, once heard in the presence of their owners, ever fail to come readily to her lips.

CLARA BOOTH BYRD

With infinite patience and attention she has brought the files to a stage where this detailed work can be increasingly delegated to others, as soon as funds become available, thus freeing more of her time for the advanced service which she and alumnae leaders have in mind. This advanced service would include the further development of the already excellent magazine, the organization of more clubs, more frequent visits to clubs, an expanded program for the use of the House by alumnae, and the securing of scholarships for exceptionally gifted girls.

Miss Byrd has become an accomplished public speaker. An incident will illustrate her effectiveness. In one of the pre-depression years, when efforts were being made by the leaders and friends of the college to ensure appropriations great enough to permit the college to become a first-rate institution, a deadlock had been reached. Miss Byrd was asked to speak, and did speak for twelve minutes before the joint finance and appropriations committees of the House and Senate. That speech was widely credited with breaking the deadlock and ensuring an appropriation of over two million dollars for the college.

In the great cooperative venture of building Alumnae House, now so happily finished, and in raising the fund, Miss Byrd was an inspiring and sustaining force for the work of the many alumnae and friends of the college who had a part in perhaps the most democratic venture of its kind in the United States. She canalized these diverse energies and then contributed to the perfect good judgment, excellent taste and fine business sense. Since the completion of our House, other colleges have, through her, utilized our experience in planning their buildings. Emphasizing a consciousness of indebtedness to her, the Smith College Alumnae Association invited her to be its guest during commencement in 1938—an invitation which she accepted, when their Alumnae House was dedicated, saying among other things that she would be "as welcome as a godmother at a christening."

From many quarters far afield we hear of the fine way in which Miss Byrd is representing us abroad. An official of the American Alumni Council wrote of her as the most efficient officer of that body during a recent term when she too was serving as a member of the executive group. In Bradford, Massachusetts, the historian and vice president of Bradford Junior College spoke of the esteem in which she is held.

Closer at home, testimony, both written and spoken, by alumnae themselves, describes her work as done "in a masterly way," and points to her proved ability to accomplish fine things.

Many have praised her double training in business and the arts, and her accomplishments in both fields. Many have admired her energy, versatility, efficiency, literary facility, and gentility. Rarer still is her ability to create a confidence that has caused one alumna to describe her as "someone with wisdom and experience to whom I could turn." But most to be praised is a largeness of spirit that stems from our college tradition. In some words written recently she unconsciously expressed this side of herself:

My great desire is to do all in my power to hold the alumnae close to the college, keeping their shoulders to the wheel and doing everything possible to stand by and support our leaders in their task of building a great educational institution on this campus.

Mental Hobbies and Adult Education

By CAROLINE GORTON HOGUE '17

Perhaps there is no surer way to go on living in the true meaning of the word than to stop the starving out of the brain that is so characteristic of adult life. For the adult, growth of the mind should be as continuous as growth of the body is for the child. It is as important, and as sure a sign of being still alive.

Experiments by psychologists in the last few years have removed the old excuses for not learning on which adults have always relied, by showing that learning is a process forever possible for the human mind, regardless of the heaping up of years.

With the time-honored excuse of "too old to learn" scientifically removed, there seems to be no other reason for putting off a renaissance of learning among the adult population than the absence of sufficient motivation. The eagerness with which adults go after formulas like those in Pitkin's Life Begins at Forty, or Dale Carnegie's How to Win Friends and Influence People; the way they flock after the prophets and preachers of

Perhaps the greatest thing we can do for our college is to build good will—good will among the alumnae and good will among the people at large. I think it doesn't matter very much whether that good will is expressed through gifts of money for scholarships or other purposes, or through work with our representatives in the Legislature, or through interesting the best students to apply for admission, or simply through keeping up with what is going on and passing the good word to our friends—the important thing is that we express this thing of good will.

Alumnae at large will heartily approve of the unanimous vote of confidence and thanks which the Board of Trustees gave Miss Byrd at the September meeting. Bearer of a distinguished name, and possessing abilities of a high order, she might have excelled in other fields. We are glad she chose to stay with us.

success and personality cults, shows that there is still an appeal that is doggedly fixed somewhere in the vicinity of the Ego. The extent of the following of these men, and of countless other personality doctors is indicative of the widespread and conscious need on the part of adults for self-realization, and for some kind of participation in the affairs of their world. Adult education is the answer to this need.

If the answer to the almost universal need of adults for self-realization and participation in the affairs of their world is education, then it would seem that there is no more important function of our educational institutions than to undertake the task of educating adults. Some of them are doing this already. But most educational institutions are very inflexible, and have little urge to democratize learning. In the meantime, there is much that the individual can do to educate himself, with the aid of library facilities, museums, and such guidance as is at hand from a host of organizations. The point I would press is: Sapere aude; Incipe. Which, being interpreted, is: Dare to be wise; and now begin.

For true liberation, the disciplines of learning must come from within. Except for courses requiring laboratory equipment or highly specialized techniques, it is undoubtedly better for the adult to make his experiment in learning on a "hobby" plane. All the muses that hover over learning seem to favor its freshness and enthusiasm. Perhaps it would be better if, instead of referring to adult learning as education, we dubbed it "mental hobbying."

The advantage of mental hobbies is that they may be pursued alone. I know many interesting adults who have consciously adopted a hobby and in their leisure hours practiced it, until they have actually made for themselves a mental frame-work that has served to bolster up their self-esteem, to give them endless entertainment of a satisfying kind, and incidentally by taking up emotional slack, has rendered them more poised and happy. One woman has done this by taking up the study of the Russian language with the help of phonographic records. Mastery of the language has opened up for her a whole world of new adventure in social history, literature, and art. Another woman, well past fifty, has taken up French. Her achievement in the language has given her distinction in the field of letters. A man I know has made his peace with himself by setting out to master a little-known field in American History. He has expanded his own personality by making obscure and systematically neglected historical figures live in a new light. There is a group of women from various professions and backgrounds who have a delightful common hobby in the study of poetry. None of these women are professional poetry lovers, as English teachers are supposed to be. They are psychologists, doctors, lawyers, housewives, social workers, editors. This group illustrates what is almost inevitably a by-product of mental hobbying, namely, the building up of friendships on the basis of objective interests rather than personal emotions. Such friendships are the flower of adult life and give meaning and substance to it. They are worth more to personality development than all the tricks and jargon of all the success and personality cults put together.

The other primary adult need—that for participation in the world of affairs—is almost a corollary of the first. The adult who begins to feel himself stretch and dilate in his personality as his mental interests grow is going to feel a normal urge to activity. It takes real wisdom though to know where to begin an active program for one's self.

Because of the growing importance of government in our national life, political activity seems to be as broad a field as social service was under the charitable conception of social and economic problems a decade or so ago.

There are all sorts of social and economic movements in which one can find active participation. The co-operative movement is offering a rich field. The modern insistence that religion assume responsibility in the field of affairs for the maintenance of ethical and human values makes activity in the churches of arresting interest. The labor movement offers an important challenge. For the most vital returns from active participation in movements, it is necessary to develop the habit of thinking through problems and thereby bringing mature judgment to activity.

The conception of adult education that has been before hinted at is excellently expressed by the late John Jay Chapman in his Letters and Religion. He says:

"Those who pursue their own loved studies quietly rule the tastes of the next generation. One man collects old Chinese bronzes; another studies the coloration of animals, or the heritable variations of plants; another Persian vases; and their tastes turn insensibly into departments in colleges and new wings to museums. The direction of the world's education depends on the hobbies of amateurs."

A Message from Your President

This is my first opportunity to pass on to you the objectives for the year as decided upon by your Board of Directors at the fall meeting. Since my election at Commencement I have spent a great deal of my time talking over alumnae matters with college authorities and many individual alumnae throughout the state. The program outlined below has met with general acceptance by all the persons with whom I talked. Our success, however, is dependent on the individual support of every alumna. You can show your support best by joining the association and performing all duties you are asked to.

First: Increase in membership.

Second: To reach more alumnae and interest them in the association and the college. Realizing that only an informed group can be vitally interested in the college, we want you to learn more of our college and then tell the world. We are especially anxious for you to become familiar with the newer activities on the campus. We hope to accomplish this through local meetings, district meetings, publicity in newspapers, articles in your magazine and personal contact.

Third: Our Alumnae News has improved greatly within the past two years, but we want to make it even better. More pictures, a new cover, better printing and paper, feature articles on individuals and departments of the college, and with your help, more personals will give us a magazine worthy of our pride.

Fourth: A different and better Alumnae Day at Commencement — one with such features that you each one will feel a real urge to come back. Your vice president, Julia Watson Maulden (Mrs. Paul), is general chairman of commencement. She will announce her sub-committees and program very soon. Write her your suggestions. Definite and detailed plans for the Fiftieth Year celebration will be announced at commencement.

Fifth: We are anxious to make our Alumnae House a real center of activities for all alumnae. Your Alumnae House Committee is working on plans to allow greater and more varied use of the house in order to meet your needs when you visit the campus. I've been surprised how many of you have never been in the house. Next time you're near Greensboro stop by and enjoy it.

Your president and your Board of Directors will do all we can to carry out this program for the year, but we can do nothing without your wholehearted support. We must count on you individually.

Lovalty yours,

SUE RAMSEY JOHNSTON FERGUSON.

Special Events in Aycock Auditorium

LECTURE PROGRAM (AND DANCE GROUPS)

- October 7. Vincent Sheehan—"Personal Opinion."
October 18. The American Ballet Caravan.
October 30. Elsa Maxwell—"Today Society is Different."
November 15. Lord Marley—"What Next In Europe?"
December 1. General Platoff Don Cossack Choir.
January 20. The Littlefield-Philadelphia Ballet.
February 6. H. R. Knickerbocker—"At the Ringside of History."
February 15. Major George Fielding Eliot—"The Ramparts We Watch."
February 26. Thomas Vernon Smith—"The Philosopher Speaks for Himself."
March 13. Louis Adamic—"Thirty Million New Americans."
March 27. George Dangerfield—"Today's Best-Sellers and Why."
April 12. Mary Ellen Chase—"Present Tendencies in American Fiction."
April 24. Herbert Agar—"Americanism and What It Represents."
May 21. John Mason Brown—"Broadway in Review."

CIVIC MUSIC ASSOCIATION PROGRAM

- October 6. Rose Bampton, soprano, Metropolitan Opera Company.
November 21. Rachmaninoff, pianist.
January 24. Lansing Hatfield, baritone,

Hickory, N. C.—Metropolitan Opera Company.

February 16. Nathan Milstein, violinist.
April 23. Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

PERFORMANCES BY PLAY-LIKERS

October 28. Girls in Uniform, by Martha Winslow. Jean McDonald '41 and Petie Roberts '42 played the leads.
December 16. Our Town, by Thornton Wilder. Pulitzer prize play for 1938. Additional dates:

February 24, March 23, April 27, May 11. Titles to be announced later.

The last play of the year will, according to custom, be repeated as the Commencement Play.

Mr. Taylor, director of the Play-Likers, says that the organization is going back to the old custom of using faculty men for the men's parts.

JUNIOR LEAGUE PLAYS

This year the Greensboro Junior League is bringing to Greensboro four outstanding plays, representative of the best in the living theatre. They are offering casts made up partly of the original New York performers. Original properties, lighting, and scenic investitures are used. These plays are being seen by capacity audiences in Aycock Auditorium. The schedule is as follows:

- October 20. Golden Boy.
November 8. Hedda Gabler. Eva Le Gallienne played the title role.
January 11. What A Life! with Jackie Coogan.
February 7. On Borrowed Time.

Hattie S. Parrott

Miss Parrott is chairman of the Alumnae Committee on the Five-Year Plan (fiftieth anniversary of the College).

Serving with Miss Parrott are the following alumnae: Dean Leah Boddie, New Jersey College for Women; Ethel Bollinger Keiger, Greensboro; Martha Blake-ney Hodges, Spray; Josie Doub Bennett, Rocky Mount; Dr. Margaret Hayes, Albany State Teachers College; Vaughn White Holoman, Rich Square; May Lovelace Tomlinson, High Point; Eoline Everett May, Danville; Dr. Mary Poteat, Duke University; the Alumnae Secretary, Greensboro.

In the picture above, Miss Parrott is seen standing in front of the Norwegian Parliament, or Storting Building, Oslo, Norway, during her visit last summer to the Scandinavian countries. Here the sessions of the Inter-Parliamentary Union were being held. Representatives of thirty-eight countries, including the United States, were in attendance. The flags of these countries flew at full mast during the conference. Miss Parrott attended the public meetings of the Union and heard the concluding reports of the committees on budget-making from the various countries represented; also the recommendations of the committee on the parliamentary procedure which should be followed in pre-war or war times.

Only one woman was included in the membership of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, Miss Kerstin Hesselgren, M. P. of Sweden. She addressed the international conference of university women which met in Stockholm during the first week in August, using as her subject, "Women's Work in the Past and Now."

Miss Parrott went abroad with Dr. Olla Helseth, native of Norway, professor of education at the College of William and Mary, who was returning to her old home for the first time in a number of years.

Through the contribution she has made to education in North Carolina, Miss Parrott has herself become an outstanding figure in this field. Indeed, she finds her place among the national leaders in education. Perhaps no man or woman in the state has served on more national committees, or been called upon to appear oftener on national programs than has our own Hattie Parrott. Her friends and acquaintances among the alumnae of Woman's College are many. She has known hundreds of them in their classrooms and aided them in their programs of work.

The Classes Have This Corner

SENIOR CLASS. Valerie Powell, president, speaking:

The most exciting thing that our class has done since college opened this year was the election of the eight outstanding seniors. These are:

Ruth Gilmore, president, and Celia Durham, vice president, of the Student Government Association; Grace Evelyn Lovings, editor of The Carolinian; Eunice King, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Muriel Qua, president of the Adolphian Society; Christine Changaris, who has served various organizations; Ellen Griffin, president of the Athletic Association; Valerie Powell, president of the senior class.

The class of 1940 has the distinction of being the largest in the history of the college, numbering 414.

THE JUNIOR CLASS. Frances Daniel, president, speaking:

"Steadfast of purpose we now stand"—this line of our song rings true, as the class of '41 moves on through junior year. With Elizabeth Falls heading the junior advisors, we did our share in orienting the freshmen; with Marjorie Norton as ring chairman, we have already received our class rings; and with Julia Paschall as dance chairman, we are looking forward to the best dance we have ever had on December 9. More than ever, "with grateful voices we are ever raising songs of cheer" for our college.

At our first class meeting, we paused in memory of Opal Merrill, one of our number who died during the summer.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS. Mary Eppes, president, speaking:

We have had two class meetings this year, and if you could hear us sing our class song, you would know that '42 has EN-THU-SI-ASM! It is already running high over such important things as jackets, the Christmas pageant, and the formal. Mae Duckworth is chairman of the jacket committee; Petie Roberts, of the pageant committee; Emily Wadsworth is engineering plans for the formal. A sophomore council, composed of one representative from each dormitory, has also been formed. The council will work with the class officers to make '42 the class we all want it to be.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS:

This class numbers 726. At the present writing, a president hasn't been elected. But testimony of a number of these younger fry—if admissible, runs about like this: "We like it here. Yes, some of us have been homesick, but we got over it. Actually getting here was the biggest thing that has happened. Then, you know, Freshman Week—with so many things to learn, and registration, and getting our window curtains up, and learning the way from the west side to the east side, in and out, without getting lost! And, oh yes—cramming for the Blue Book exam! Maybe the first date we had after getting here was the most exciting thing. We were about to forget those special exams—intelligence tests, English tests, French tests, reading tests; it was like being looked at under a microscope. Thinking back, though, it was all rather fun. Getting initiated into the societies was something too. One whole day we had to walk around on the campus, our hair tied with ribbon streamers in the society-of-our-choice colors, a towel slung over one shoulder, a pillow case full of books over the other; and if by chance we couldn't avoid meeting the high and mighty president, down we had to go on our knees and humbly bow. They even made us walk in the gutters. Of course there is always one bright spot no matter what—the post office!"

IN MEMORIAM

Elizabeth McIver Weatherspoon

By RUTH FITZGERALD
Professor of Education

In the passing of Mrs. Elizabeth Weatherspoon on May 25, 1939, the College suffered the loss of a highly esteemed member of its faculty for a period of thirty-three years. Mrs. Weatherspoon, daughter of Henry and Sarah Harrington McIver, was born near Sanford in 1871. She attended Peace Institute and was a student in 1892 at Woman's College, then the State Normal and Industrial College, under the presidency of her brother, Dr. Charles Duncan McIver. In later years she specialized in art at Columbia University under Professor Arthur Dow. From 1893-1900 she taught the first grade in South Greensboro under the superintendency of George A. Grimley. In 1900 she was married to James R. Weatherspoon and moved to Sanford.

After the death of her husband she returned to Greensboro, and to the College, where in 1906 she became a member of the training school faculty. She taught and supervised the first grade for several years, but her greatest and longest service was in the field of art. In 1935 the ambition of her life was realized when the College established a Department of Art, in which she was accorded the rank of associate professor.

In her professional life Mrs. Weatherspoon was a pioneer in art education in North Carolina. She was a charter member and first president of the Division of Art in the North Carolina Education Association. She was also a charter member and enthusiastic worker in the Southeastern Arts Association, and held membership in the American Federation of Arts

She was a member of the Reviewers Club, the oldest study club in Greensboro.

For a generation she had been an important figure in the educational, social, and civic life of the state. In consideration of her fine contribution she was in 1935 elected a charter member of Alpha Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma. At her death this organization made a gift to the state scholarship fund in her memory.

Mrs. Weatherspoon was descended from a long line of sturdy Scotch ancestry. Her own name had become synonymous with hardy determination, strength of character, and high personal and professional integrity. Buffeted by the storms of life, she always stood four-square to the world.

She possessed a keen intellect and a ready native wit. A gracious dignity and rare personal charm, combined with a kind and gentle heart won for her a unique place among friends and acquaintances. Even the taxi driver could say, "She was a fine lady. I miss her."

Mrs. Weatherspoon loved beauty in all its forms and exemplified this love in every phase of her life. She was known for the beauty and perfection of detail in everything she touched, from the tiny child's cap to be worn in the pageant to the gracious setting of her own hospitable table and the works of art produced by her students. Her own life formed a lovely tapestry of darks and lights with harmonious blending of soft rich colors.

We, who worked with her and loved her through the years, miss the willing and skillful hands, the strong, vital personality, and the fragrance of a rare friendship. But we do not grieve; for to her life had been good, interesting, rich, and full. She had fought the good fight, she had finished the course, and she might well say with Stevenson:

"Glad did I live and gladly die,
And I laid me down with a will."

RECENT GIFTS TO ALUMNAE HOUSE

SILVER

Now and then something really does happen that seems too good to be true. "I can't believe that," said Alice to the White Queen when she told how old she was. "Tru again," replied the Queen. "Draw a long breath, and shut your eyes!"

Well, meae alumnae, draw a long breath and shut your eyes! Alumnae House is now the proud possessor of two complete silver services, with trays, given by Arnold and Harold Schiffman, Greensboro, in honor of their father. The pattern is Champlain, French Colonial, manufactured by Reed and Barton.

The gift was made to the Alumnae Committee on Maintenance and Furnishings, and personally presented by this Committee and Mr. Arnold Schiffman at the meeting of the Alumnae Board of Trustees, held in Alumnae House, on September 8.

These handsome services harmonize perfectly with the general atmosphere of the House, and have already been greatly admired on the Queen Anne table, at several formal occasions.

LACE

Another beautiful and gracious gift came from Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Williams (Edith Caldwell Williams), Balboa Heights, Canal Zone. Edith was a visitor in Alumnae House during October. On her way back to the Canal Zone, she stopped in New York, purchased and sent to the House an exquisite lace and linen banquet cloth for the Queen Anne table.

LINEN

Hemstitched tea napkins from the Spring Hope Alumnae Club, through Ruth Brantley Douglas, chairman.

CASH

Miss Caroline Schoch, head of the Department of German, Woman's College U.N.C.

Lenoir County Alumnae Association, through Elizabeth Brooks, secretary.

Duplin County Alumnae Association, through Louise K. Boney, reporter.

Mecklenburg County Alumnae Association, through Katherine Lewis Smathers, retiring chairman.

For all of these gifts, the Alumnae House Maintenance and Furnishings Committee, on behalf of the entire alumnae body, extends sincerest appreciation.

THE ARCHERS — THEY HIT THE SPOT

E. A. WODELL

Service Printer

Successor to "Kendall"

221 East Sycamore St. Greensboro, N. C.

Affairs of Local Clubs and Associations

For several years, an alumnae committee has prepared suggested material for the use of the local clubs and associations in connection with their Founder's Day meetings. This year the committee was composed of Fan Darlington Todd, chairman; Oeland Barnett Wray, Alice Poole Adams, and Dorothy Edwards Summerrow. They met last summer and decided to use "Campus Echoes" as the theme of the program for this year. New, interesting, and enlivening facts concerning the College were compiled and prepared somewhat after the fashion of a skit, each "echo" representing a "part" taken by an alumna. Reports are still coming in from groups which used and enjoyed Campus Echoes.

Alamance County Association

On Wednesday evening, October 11, more than forty Alamance County alumnae gathered at the Episcopal parish house, Burlington, to celebrate Founder's Day at a beautifully planned dinner meeting. Inez Ridenhour, chairman, extended cordial greetings and did the honors of the occasion. Clara Byrd, general secretary of the Alumnae Association, our guest speaker, brought the college and the alumnae close together in information and inspiration. Margaret McConnell Holt lead twenty-one members of the group in a special feature called "Campus Echoes." The College Song was sung. The reports of the secretary and the treasurer were heard. The group stood in memory of Miss Melville Fort, Miss Etta Spier, Mrs. Elizabeth McIver Weatherspoon, former members of the College faculty, who had died during the year. New officers were elected: chairman, Margaret Riddle; secretary, Elizabeth Zurburg Gabriel; treasurer, Carrie McLean Taylor.

Margaret Riddle, Chairman.

Buncombe County Association

Meeting one. Under the leadership of Lylal Maie Reynolds, chairman, Buncombe alumnae met on Founder's Day at the home of Dorothy Gaskins, Asheville. During the business session, the secretary and treasurer made their reports, respectively. Alice Harrold Lee, chairman, reported for the committee on the Scholarship Fund. Progress is being made in raising the fund, though no goal has been set. New officers elected for the coming year are: chairman, Dorothy Gaskins; vice-chairman, Ruth Mendenhall Burton; secretary-treasurer, Ophelia Jernigan. The program was in two parts; first, a talk by Anna Meade Michaux Williams, member of the student body the year that the College opened, who reminisced interestingly of the early days of the College; second, "Campus Echoes"—a presentation of facts which disclosed in contrast the College of today. The new chairman announced the following committee chairman: Scholarship Fund, Lylal Maie Reynolds; publicity, Mary Ellen Harrison; membership, Mary Torian. Tea brought the program to a pleasant close.

Dorothy Gaskins, Retiring Secretary.

Duplin County Association

Duplin alumnae met in the Woman's Club Building, Wallace, on the afternoon of Founder's Day, with the alumnae in Wallace serving as hostesses. We were delighted with "Campus Echoes," the major item on the program. A telegram of congratulations was sent to the College to be read at the special exercises there. We also sent to the Alumnae Office a check to be used for furnishings for Alumnae House. New officers who will serve next year are: chairman, Louise Hunter Wells; vice-chairman, Allie Hill Boney; secretary-treasurer, Mary Emma Stewart Hawes. During the social hour which preceded adjournment, news and views were exchanged, while our hostesses served a salad course.

Louise K. Boney, Reporter.

Durham County Association

Meeting one. Under the leadership of Dr. Mary Potat, chairman, Durham alumnae assembled in the Durham

Y.M.C.A. on the evening of October 5, to commemorate Founder's Day. We sang the College Song with zeal, and brought ourselves up-to-date with College happenings through the special program, "Campus Echoes." We enjoyed this coming-together and hope to have another meeting during this scholastic year.

Mary Lib McDonald, Secretary

Gaston County Association

Approximately 70 alumnae gathered for a dinner meeting in the Woman's Club Building, Gastonia, on the evening of October 12. Flowers in the college colors were used tastefully in the hall and on the tables. In the absence of Fan Darlington Todd, chairman, Margaret Scott Harry served as gracious toastmistress. The featured speaker of the meeting was Professor A. C. Hall, of the Department of English, Woman's College. In his excellent address, he brought much interesting information about changes which have been made during the last few years in the curriculum at College. Paul B. Onley, head of the Voice Department, accompanied by his wife, Alma Lissow Onley, drew an enthusiastic encore for his group of songs. Mrs. R. S. Ferguson, president of the Alumnae Association, centered her short talk around the Alumnae Association. Clara B. Byrd, Alumnae Secretary, brought greetings from the campus. Several other guests were also welcomed.

High Point Association

Emerywood Country Club, High Point, festive and patriotic with many yellow and white dahlia's, was the setting for our meeting on the evening of October 12, honoring Founder's Day. Frances Welch Cridlebaugh, chairman, presided. The high spot of the evening was the talk by Mrs. Mary Leath Stewart, of the Art Department at College. She illustrated her lecture with numerous pictures, and especially interested us in explaining how the Art Department of our College is meeting the demands of art in the modern world. Our group is proud to have three members of Phi Beta Kappa: Mary Brantley, Sophia Taplin, Alma Virginia McCain. New officers elected are: chairman, Ruth Bacon Taplin; secretary, Evelyn Sharpe. An enjoyable social hour followed the program.

Frances Welch Cridlebaugh,
Retiring Chairman.

Lenoir County Association

Our Association was pleased to send to the Alumnae Office, in honor of Founder's Day, a check to be added to the fund for furnishings. We enjoyed a Founder's Day meeting, during which we reviewed through "Campus Echoes" the growth of our College. New officers elected for the coming year are: chairman, Bessie Sims Mewborn; secretary-treasurer, Charlotte Hill. Elizabeth Brooks, Retiring Secretary-Treasurer.

MARIE ESTELLE CRANFORD
(Mrs. W. L. Carter)

Under whose leadership, as chairman of the Guilford County Alumnae Association, a scholarship of one hundred dollars has recently been raised.

Mecklenburg County Association

On Founder's Day, Mecklenburg alumnae met for luncheon at Thacker's Restaurant in Charlotte. Katherine Lewis Smathers, chairman, presided. She presented Mrs. Daisy Hanes Lassiter, member of the Board of Trustees of the Greater University, who gave the group much inspiration as she reviewed the steady progress of Woman's College since its doors were opened in 1892. A check was sent to the Alumnae Office as a birthday gift from this association, to be used for furnishings. During the business session, new officers were elected who will serve during the current year: chairman, Marie Ritch Rowe; vice-chairman, Elizabeth Stratford Newitt; secretary, Ruth Moore; treasurer, Helen Klemeir.

Katherine Lewis Smathers,
Retiring Chairman.

Norfolk-Portsmouth (Va.) Club

On the afternoon of October 6, Hildah Mann Jones was hostess to the Norfolk-Portsmouth alumnae at her home, Norfolk. Jennie Eagle, chairman, presided. The feature of the program was a paper read by Miss Eagle on "The Growth of our Public Schools." "Campus Echoes" brought us the latest news from College. Nor the least important part of the program was "the sing," with Ethel Wicker as accompanist. We sang, perhaps a little nostalgically, the College Song, Carolina, and others dear to our hearts. A social hour brought the afternoon to a close.

Marie Richard Fluker, Secretary.

Pitt County Association

Honoring the 47th anniversary of our College, alumnae in Pitt County met in the high school library, Greenville, on the evening of October 5. Under the direction of the chairman, Thelma Bryan Hilton, the meeting was opened with the College Song and Carolina. Letters were read from President Graham, Dean Jackson, and Mrs. Ferguson. "Campus Echoes" followed. Officers who will serve during the current year are: chairman, Eva Hodges; secretary, Louise Dalton; treasurer, Maude Beatty Bowen.

Roanoke Rapids Club

On October 12, Roanoke Rapids alumnae had a picnic at the Country Club, with all the trimmings! Several recent graduates were welcomed into membership. After a social hour, we gathered around the camp fire, where everybody told or read an item of interest concerning the progress of the College. Margaret Dunning presided over the business meeting. This year we are planning to begin a scholarship fund, to be used to aid some promising student at Woman's College. The following new officers were elected: chairman, Maxine Garner; recording secretary, Hermine Carraway; corresponding secretary, Evelyn Shepherd.

Thelma Garriss,
Retiring Secretary.

Rockingham County Association

Martha Blakeney Hodges received our Association at her home on the evening of Founder's Day. Rebekah Smith Davis, chairman, presided. The group listened to "Campus Echoes" with enthusiasm, and sang all the songs on the song sheet! Mrs. Hodges brought us first-hand information from the campus, since she had attended the program at the college that morning. Mary Gwynn told interestingly of her summer camp at Brevard. Margaret McNairy Wray was elected chairman for the coming year. At the conclusion of the program, we enjoyed ice in the college colors.

Rebekah Smith Davis,
Retiring Chairman.

Rutherford County Association

Muriel Barnes Erwin, chairman, entertained Rutherford alumnae at her home in Forest City, honoring Founder's Day. "Campus Echoes" proved to be informative and lively. It was supplemented by a humorous "Then and Now" description of college life, between Eulalie (Elliott) Reid, student at College during its first year, and Jane Clegg and York Kiker, both '39s. During the business session, the minutes of the last meeting were heard, and the following officers elected for the current year: chairman, Margaret Johnston; secretary, Emma Young Dorsey. The evening concluded with tea, served by the hostess.

Willard Powers,
Retiring Secretary.

Spring Hope Alumnae Club

Meeting one. Featuring "Campus Echoes" as the center of our program, the Spring Hope Alumnae Club held its initial meeting of the year early in October, honoring Founder's Day. In a brief talk,

BEHIND THE SCENES WITH THE PLAY-LIKERS

EVA LEE SINK (Mrs. W. H. Weir)
Chairman of the Loan Fund Committee of the Atlanta Alumnae Club

Mrs. Mattie L. Bolton Matthews, member of the first graduating class, made us feel personally acquainted with Dr. McIver and the early days of the College. Our group is small, but interested. During the past year we donated books to the local public library, gave baskets to the needy, visited the sick, and at present are planning to entertain the senior girls in high school in order to acquaint them with our College.

Ruth Brantley Douglas, Chairman.

Stanly County Association

A dinner meeting held at Hotel Albemarle, on the evening of Founder's Day, brought an enthusiastic group of alumnae together. Husbands and guests were also present. Evelyn Parks, chairman, presided, welcomed the group, and presented Dr. B. B. Kendrick, head of the Department of History at Woman's College. In her introduction, Miss Parks stated that she had especially wished to bring to Albemarle a speaker who could discuss with authority the present European War situation. Dr. Kendrick handled his subject in a masterly way—so much so that the regular meeting was followed by "ad-journed" discussions. Miss Parks presented Clara B. Byrd, General Secretary of the Alumnae Association, who brought last-minute news from the campus. Mrs. Kendrick was also presented. During the business meeting, the following officers were elected for the coming year: chairman, Rachel Nye; vice-chairman, Pauline Whitley.

delphia. He had been associated with Temple University since 1918, and at the time of his death was Professor of Economics.

1900

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

Miriam MacFadyen has built an attractive two-family cottage in Greensboro, on the west side of Forest Street, almost opposite the college infirmary. She was chairman of the banquet sponsored by the North Carolina Chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma, at the national convention of this organization held in Asheville in the late summer.

1901

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

1902

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

1903

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

1905

Ruth Fitzgerald, president of the North Carolina chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for women who have achieved distinction in the field of education, was co-chairman of the national convention which met in Asheville the latter part of August. More than 500 women, representing every state in the union, united in the three-day convention. At the Founder's Day banquet, sponsored by the North Carolina Chapters, Miss Fitzgerald was the presiding official. The theme of the convention centered in a pertinent question, "Teachers, What Next?"

1906

Josie Doub Bennett is a member of the Executive Board of the Federated Garden Clubs of North Carolina.

News from the Alumnae

It was a great pleasure to have Dr. Eugene W. Gudger make his annual visit to the campus during registration week in September. Time is dealing very handsomely with the doctor (take a bow!). During his stop in the Alumnae Office, several of the alumnae, some of them his former students, dropped in, and there was much swapping of news and experience, and not a little in the way of blessed reminiscence. Dr. Gudger is still to be found at the American Museum of Natural History, New York, where he is now devoting all his time to the preparation of the Bashford Dean Memorial Volume of articles and lithographs. While here, Dr. Gudger was especially interested in going over the new science building, now nearing completion. Dr. Gudger joined the staff of our college in 1905 as head of the Department of Biology, resigning in 1919 to become associate in the Department of Ichthyology at the Museum, and editor of Volume III of the Bibliography of Fishes. He was on his way back to his post in New York, after having spent his annual vacation with his family in Waynesville.

Dr. John A. Lesh, at one time head of the Department of Education at Woman's College, died August 6 in Temple University Hospital, Phila-

Young Mothers! Do What Your Mother Did About COUGHING COLDS

3 Out of 5 Mothers Use This Home-Proved Treatment

You are right to worry when a cold strikes your family. You should take steps, at once, to relieve the misery and suffering. But you want to be sure that what you do is really helpful. You don't want to take needless risks.

Now here is what most mothers do. They use Vicks VapoRub. Since 1895 Vicks and their doctors have studied ways to treat the distressing symptoms of colds. Today three out of five mothers are benefiting by this forty-four-year-study of colds when they use VapoRub and let its amazing poultice-vapor action go to work. PROFIT BY THEIR EXPERIENCE. Do this. If it's a coughing cold, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a pan of boiling water, and breathe in the soothing, medicated vapors. Then massage Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back and go to bed.

VICKS
VAPORUB

1907

Agnes (Blake) Leuders and her husband, from Compton, Cal., were visitors in Greensboro in July. This was Mrs. Leuders' first trip in thirty-one years, and Mr. Leuders' initial North Carolina visit. Mr. Leuders is head of the Department of Art at Compton Junior College.

Marjorie (Kennedy) White's daughter, Emily, a senior at Woman's College this year, was water front director at Camp Andree, Briarcliff Manor, New York, this past summer. This is a national Girl Scout camp. Emily has achieved the Golden Eaglet rank, the highest honor of Girl Scouting.

1913

An appreciated line from Martha Faison, Lockland School, Geneva, N. Y., reads: "It is always heart-warming to hear from the College. I am always glad to receive my copy of the Alumnae News."

1914

Ruth Gunter was numbered among the Delta Kappa Gammias who attended the national convention of some 500 American women educators,

SILLS IS THE WORD FOR SHOES IN GREENSBORO

Make our Store your headquarters for Sportswear, complete line.

Coble Sporting Goods Co.

344 S. Elm St. Greensboro, N. C.

THE MECCA

Greensboro's Leading Seafood Restaurant

AIR CONDITIONED

held in Asheville in the late summer.

Dr. Frank R. Heine, whose wife is Ethie Garrett, is the new secretary-treasurer of the Osteopathic Association of the Middle Atlantic States. He is a former president of this body, and has also previously served several terms as secretary-treasurer. For many years Dr. Heine has been secretary of the North Carolina Association of Osteopaths. He is likewise a former president of the state organization, and is a member of the North Carolina Board of Examiners. The Heines have one child, a son, Frank Garrett, now a student in the Greensboro High School.

Fannie S. (Mitchell) Sellars is this year president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church, Greensboro.

1915

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

Mabel Cooper Adams, Lenoir, went to Havana last summer to visit her brother, a U. S. postal agent there. Mabel says she found the place enchanting.

Annie Albright, dean of women at Western Carolina Teachers College, continued there in her official capacity during the first summer session. She spent the remainder of the summer at her home in Waynesville, except for an occasional brief excursion. A visit to Eastern North Carolina included seeing a performance of The Lost Colony, at Manteo.

Ernestine Cherry was initiated into Delta Kappa Gamma Society, national fraternity of key women in education, at the birthday celebration held in Raleigh the last of October. Ernestine is a teacher of first grade work in the Burlington schools.

Vera Millsaps, Ph.D., spent her vacation at Teachers College, Columbia University, taking courses relating to the teaching of biology.

1916

Sadie (McBrayer) McCain is a member of the executive board of the Federated Garden Clubs of North Carolina. She is also officially active in the work of the Presbyterian church in North Carolina.

1917

Martha Biggers spent last summer studying at the Juilliard Graduate School of Music, New York.

1918

Luther H. Hodges, whose wife is Martha Blakeney, was one of the speakers at the 20th annual session of the Southern Conference on Human Relations in Industry, held at Blue Ridge last summer. Mr. Hodges is manager of the Manufacturing Division of Marshall Field and Company.

1919

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

Millie Pearson was an enthusiastic visitor last summer at the New York World's Fair.

1920

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

Margaret W. Lawrence, M.D., is connected with the Out-Patient Children's Division of the Vanderbilt Clinic, New York, one of the divisions of the west side medical center, which includes the Presbyterian Hospital and the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Wilyjon (Medlock) Kennan, her husband, and their two sons, Richard, Jr., and Dana, visited Professor and Mrs. A. C. Hall at their home in Greensboro the latter part of August. The Kennans were on their way to Florida, where Wilyjon and the boys will spend the winter. Dr. Kennan is a professor in the University of Vermont.

1921

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

Last summer, Flossie Marie Foster was again a member of the Chautauqua, N. Y., Library Education Department. This winter she is back at her post as librarian and director of library training, State Teachers College, Kutztown, Penn.

Lena (Kernodle) McDuffie won two prizes in art at the State Fair this fall—first prize for her drawing in lithograph, "The Washerwoman"; second prize for an oil painting, "Landscape."

1922

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

1923

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Claud Grigg (Margie Humphreys '23), a son, David Lee Grigg, July 8, Albemarle.

Julia (Montgomery) Street is making headway as a writer of juveniles. "Hoecake and Buttermilk" is the title of one of the last ones which found a ready market. What with two interesting children of her own, a daughter and a son, a husband who is tops, a lovely house to keep, and much, much more—well, why shouldn't she write things that editors will buy and people will read?

1924

Madge (Alderman) Marshall has been living in her new home in Raleigh for a year and a half. She attended the World Baptist Convention held in Atlanta some months ago.

Addie R. Banks (Mrs. Dewey Morris) makes her home in Greensboro. She has two daughters, Amy Jean 13, Barbara Ann 9, and a son, Dewey 6.

Sue (Ervin) Pulver has a new daughter, Jeanette Cordelia, born last May 12. Sue still lives at Wellesley Hills, Boston, where her husband is a teacher of French in the high school.

Mary Grier is Mrs. Lawrence Egerton, Greensboro. They have three sons—Lawrence, Jr. 8, Robert Grey 4, and George 2.

Evelyn Mendenhall (Mrs. Blake Thompson) lives in High Point. She has a son and daughter, Marietta 12, Dick 8.

Olive (Webb) Wharton lives in Greensboro. She has three children, Ashby, Jr. 7, Jane Graves 3, and Thomas Watson 2.

Pearl Williams (Mrs. C. M. Irvin, Jr.) lives near Concord. She has three sons, Billy 7, Jimmy 6, Dicky 4.

Florence (Winstead) Lee leads a busy life in Rocky Mount, what with a son now in school, her class of voice students, her work with the Junior Studio Club, and another club of still newer musicians. She has also been chosen for the solo work in the annual Christmas Concert of the Rocky Mount Music Club.

1925

Claude Aycock is spending this winter in Panama, where she is teaching Spanish in the Cristobal Junior High School.

Edwina Deans taught last summer in the education department of the summer session, Duke University. Now she is teaching for the third winter in the Evanston, Ill., high school. Edwina visited Elsie (Brame) Hunt '26, for two or three weeks, in Raleigh, last summer.

Mattie Erma Edwards is collector for the Hall of History, located on the first floor of the new State Building in Raleigh. The first room in the hall features the beginnings of North Carolina's history at Roanoke Island. Mattie Erma was in the museum at Manteo during the season when Paul Green's drama, "The Lost Colony," was presented.

Goldie (Harris) Hocutt is working in the registrar's office at State College, Raleigh.

Clyde Hunter is teaching again this winter in Dabney High School, Henderson.

Evelyn (Pope) James, Asheville, and her two-year-old daughter, Elaine, visited Maxine (Taylor) Fountain in Raleigh last spring. Evelyn is knee-deep in homemaking, with time out for local A.A.U.W., a literary club, and her church choir. Evelyn's husband is a lawyer.

Myrtle (Scholl) Hopson now lives at Fuquay Springs. She was married in August, 1938, in Sacred Heart Cathedral, Raleigh.

Neal (Seawell) Briggs is this year president of the State College Woman's Club. Membership is composed of wives of members of the faculty, and women members of the faculty.

Maxine (Taylor) Fountain seems to be concentrating on church work and music. She is president of the Women's Council of the Hillyer Memorial Christian Church, Raleigh, and is also active in the St. Cecilia Club, oldest choral group in that city. Her husband, Dr. A. M. Fountain, member of the faculty of State College, appeared on the program of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, meeting in convention last June at Pennsylvania State College. He discussed "The Problem of the Poorly Prepared Student."

Lorna Thielen stopped in Alumnae House the middle of October on her way back to Storrs, Conn., after a visit to her people in North Carolina.

Anna Watson is laboratory technician at Memorial Hospital, Richmond.

1926

Louise (Ervin) McCulloch is living now in New Haven, Conn., where her husband, Dr. T. L. McCulloch, does research in psychology with the Yale Laboratory of Primate Biology. Their daughter, Anne, was two years old last September.

Katherine Sherrill studied at Columbia University last year, and this year is connected with the personnel office at Columbia.

1927

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gibbs (Annie Davis Melvin), a son, August 9, Hickory.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ellis (Jessie Wicker), a son, Howard McDonald, Jr., August 10, Mary Elizabeth Hospital, Raleigh. Mr. Ellis is

All the thrill of extravagance

with the fun of economy at

FIELDS

Exquisite Feminine Apparel

102 South Elm

Phone 7947

LET US SEND THE BILL HOME

Bernau Jewelry & Optical Co.

210 S. Greene St.

LENSES DUPLICATED
WATCHES REPAIRED

SATURDAY'S LINE-UP

You certainly will be interested in knowing who is going to be in the Varsity line-up for next Saturday. But you'd better line up on some silk hosiery for yourself. It's all right to be a ribbed sock beauty all week, but for the dances and parties after the Game, you'll need silk hose that look the part and WEAR. Come to MANGEL'S for Number 200 in MANGEL'S TESTED CREPE HOSE. They are only 69c a pair and they look sheerer, fit better and wear longer than any others at near the price.

Charge Accounts for Your Convenience

MANGEL'S

216 South Elm Street
GREENSBORO, N. C.

Greensboro Floral Company

378 North Elm Street
Dial 6508

Flowers are the smartest way to convey any greeting.

Modernistic Corsages At Popular Prices

GREETINGS
from YOUR NATIONAL THEATRE

"Good Shows At Popular Prices"

For Reservations Call

CHARLIE CARROLL, Manager

Greensboro Bowling Alleys

Phone 8046 341 N. Elm St.

MANN'S

O. HENRY DRUG STORE

Creators of

Reasonable Drug Prices

You're Always Welcome

121 S. Elm St. Phone 2-1191

DIAL 5109

CAROLINA TAXI

Reasonable Rates for
Out-of-Town Trips

All Cabs Insured

25c 1 to 4 Pas. 25c

ANN LEWIS

• • •

A New Shop dedicated to exclusive feminine fashions that establish a lasting impression!

• • •

113 South Elm Street

with the Extension Service of State College.

Ruth Linney had an interesting article called, "When School Was A-Teaching" in a July issue of the Greensboro Daily News. It was her thesis that "teachers seem to have the position of serfs in the feudal age."

Rebecca (Ogburn) Gill—she of the glorious contralto voice—has been connected for the past two and a half years with the Birth Control Federation of America, with headquarters in New York City. In a hurry to reassure you—yes, she still sings. Moreover, after her graduation here, she went to New York to study voice, won a scholarship with the New York Opera Comique, and sang with this company until it disbanded in 1932. Since 1934 she has been a member of the quartet of the First Baptist Church of Montclair, N. J. But Rebecca confesses that her work with the Birth Control Federation is "fascinating." She finds it to be one of the most constructive modern movements for community health and welfare. North Carolina, by the way, has the distinction of being the first state in which a birth control program was launched by the State Board of Health. Rebecca is really combining three careers—work with the Federation, music, and homemaking. The Gills have an eight-year-old daughter, Ruth.

1928

Ruth (Bellamy) Brownwood sent greetings to the Alumnae Office en route from her present home in Los Angeles to a visit with her people in Enfield, including her son, David, who preceded his mother.

1929

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Howland (Verdy Jackson), a daughter, Billie Katherine, June 2, Raleigh.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McNeill (Louise Parker), a second son, Henry Franklin, August 15, Norwood.

Irene Boliek went to Woods Hole, Mass., last summer, where she spent six weeks at the Modern Biological Laboratory, watching the development of certain marine animals.

Mary Alice (Culp) Daniels, Salisbury, has a daughter, Elizabeth Anne, now nearly six months old.

Pauline (Pittard) Gillespie and her husband have been reported safe at their home in Kaifeng, China. Friends and relatives were especially glad to hear this news after the account in the papers that three-fourths of Kaifeng had been destroyed by the Japanese.

1930

Class Reunion—Commencement 1940

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Noah Goodridge (Frances Hampton), a son, Thomas Hampton, August 22, Washington City.

Betty (Brown) Jester is back at her old job as manager of the College Book Store. She has two children,

Reproduction in facsimile of the First Folio Edition of Shakespeare (1623)

MEMORIAL TO MARTHA E. WINFIELD 1906, GIVEN BY FORMER STUDENTS AND FRIENDS

Placed in the Reading Room of the Woman's College Library

Martha Sparks and John Carlton III. Her husband is southern representative of the Charles H. Elliott Company, Philadelphia.

Dorothy (Edwards) Summerow is secretary of the North Carolina Poetry Society. She has a lovely home in Gastonia, and two charming little girls, Cynthia, a delighted pupil in the first grade, and Dorothy, just now well out of babyhood.

Helen Felder enjoyed a cruise to Bermuda last summer. On her return to New York, she visited Mary Lyon '30 and Corinne Cook '29, who were studying at Columbia University. Corinne is continuing her study at Columbia, working for a Master's degree.

Charlesanna Fox is a member of the staff of Carnegie Public Library, Winston-Salem. She writes that she is already looking forward to the tenth reunion of her class next June.

Rosalyn Gardner is this year a student at the University of North Carolina, where she is pursuing courses leading to a Ph.D. in Romance Languages. During the year 1936-37, Rosalyn served as acting head of the French Department in Georgia State College for Women.

Pattie Lee (Moore) Newman visited in North Carolina last July, on her way from her home in St. Petersburg, Fla., to New York, where she was going on business for her firm. Pat's mother died a little over two years ago, and this was her first trip north since that time.

Mat-Moore Taylor went on a Caribbean cruise last spring, on a vacation from directing publicity for the Community Union, Madison, Wis. She sailed from New Orleans, and visited Cuba, Haiti, and the Canal Zone.

1931

Sarah Anderson is librarian in the Statesville High School.

Lucy Blake is home demonstration agent in Fairfax County, Virginia. Incidentally, she is taking a course in the graduate school of the Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Masel Bowles is again teaching physical education in State Teachers College, Indiana, Pa.

Elizabeth Glenn is now Mrs. Thomas C. Davis, Gastonia. She has a daughter, Marilyn Glenn, three years old.

Mary M. Greenlee spent last summer studying at Peabody College. She is principal of South School, Mooresville.

Leah Heilig is bookkeeper for Heilig & Meyers, Goldsboro.

Sarah Kille is an instructor in adult education, with headquarters in the court house, Asheville.

For the past two years, Ermine Neal has been teaching in the State School for the Deaf, Morganton. Ermine's home is in Marion.

Annie Tucker is Home Demonstration Agent in Iredell County, Statesville.

1932

Georgia Flowe is teaching a third grade in Gastonia.

Edith Ivey is now Mrs. James E. Pugh, Hickory. The marriage occurred early last June.

Susie Jackson is secretary to the dean and registrar, Davidson College.

Katharine (Jones) Spivey, Raleigh, was married in 1937. She taught school for the five years previous, and since her marriage did clerical work at State College for several months. Katharine has a daughter not yet a year old.

Lucile (Joyner) Spear is an instructor in mathematics and history in the Forsyth County Schools.

Isabel Munden has a secretarial position with the A.A.A., Camden Court-house.

Linda Rankin teaches the social sciences and biology in the Alamance High School, near Greensboro. She also coaches the girls' basketball team and assists with the work of the Girl Scouts. Linda is on the campus of the College rather frequently attending the numbers on the lecture course.

Katherine Turner is teaching physical education in the Fayetteville High School. Last summer she attended the Wake Forest summer school and also had charge of a group of girls at Camp Carlyle.

Mrs. Hallie Ball Weller is a member of the staff of the South Carolina State Department of Education. She is district supervisor of home economics education, with headquarters in Spartanburg.

1933

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Davenport (Elizabeth Langford), a son, David Andrews, September 27, Binghamton, N. Y.

Virginia Allen went on an auto and boat trip last summer, west and north, with three other teachers from Rockingham. Among other places of interest, they saw Yellowstone Park and the San Francisco Fair. They also took

Dunes of Kitty Hawk

By CHRISTINE SLOAN

*What is this strange and barren stretch of land,
These dunes, deprived of leaf and tender grass,
That rise around us here on either band—
These drifted sands, that blind in sun like glass,
With whiteness unrelieved by restful green,
With sameness never broken by a tree?
Why linger here when nearby may be seen
The ever-changing beauty of the sea?
Strange though it seems, this sterile place one day
Brought forth a thing of beauty and of wonder;
Here long-dreamed vision found its form, and straightway
Rose up and roared across the sky like thunder!
Upon these dunes shall undimmed glory stay
As long as man has power to praise and ponder.*

—Prize-winning poem.
Charlotte Observer Contest.

All New Cars	25c TAXI	Careful Drivers

Correct Time on Request	"Then Count the Minutes"	GREENSBORO, N. C.

a cruise from Seattle to Alaska. The entire trip lasted about ten weeks.

Helene Coogan's poem, "The Fish," is included in Music Unheard, the two-volume anthology of hitherto unpublished verse, brought out recently by Henry Harrison, publisher, New York City.

Elizabeth (Langford) Davenport returned to her home in Binghamton, N. Y., the latter part of September, after spending the summer with her husband's family at their summer place in Clinton, N. Y. Elizabeth's husband had charge of the Agfa Ansco's exhibit at the New York World's Fair, and Elizabeth writes interestingly of her own visits to the Fair.

By summer study, Leora Walker is pursuing a degree in library science at William and Mary College. This winter she is teaching third grade in Chester Springs, Va.

1934

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Beall (Jean Skaden), a daughter, Linda Skaden, June 15, Hagerstown, Md.

Mary Alexander is interviewer for the North Carolina State Employment Service, Concord.

Marguerite Butner is now Mrs. Julian C. Avery, Jr., and lives in Winston-Salem. Her husband is an electrical engineer with Duke Power Company.

Caroline Martin is this year cataloger in the library at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va.

Pearl (Quackenbush) Barker lives in Raleigh, where her husband is with the Forestry Extension Service of State College, Mr. Barker's alma mater. For two years previous to their return to the State, the Barkers were located in Arkadelphia, Ark.

Flora (Royall) Johnson, Elkin, has a son, Garland, Jr., about fifteen months old.

Catherine (Taylor) Hodges is now

This is a COLA NUT

MILLIONS of bottles of cola beverages are consumed in America every day. More than 200 different brands of cola drinks are sold throughout the U. S. A. And yet, there are many people who have never seen a cola nut, the extract of which is a flavor-ingredient of cola beverages.

This nut, about the size and shape of a Brazil nut, is so valuable a commodity in the parts of Africa where it is grown that it is even used as a medium of exchange. According to Robert L. Ripley, thirty of them will buy a very handsome wife.

The cultivation, and importation of the extract of this nut is, in itself, an important industry. But the manufacturing and bottling of cola beverages is a greater industry by far.

When you choose a cola drink from the more than 200 brands on the market, you should let your taste decide. We were so sure that Royal Crown had a finer flavor that we tested it against the leaders in the field of cola drinks. Test after test was made in city after city. They were certified tests, sworn to before notaries. And in 9 tests out of 10, Royal Crown was voted tops for taste.

* * *

• To the many who say "Royal Crown" whenever they want a cola drink, we record our thanks. To those who have not as yet tasted Royal Crown, we urge a trial. And to those who as yet cannot get Royal Crown in their own communities, we offer the hope that they soon can.

ROYAL CROWN

1888 - 1914 - 1915 - 1916

COLA

Greensboro NEHI Bottling Co.

823 Battleground Avenue

Phone 9824

living in Davao City, Davao, Philippine Islands, where her husband represents the Harvester Company. Last year they lived in Wilson, where Catherine was director of physical education for women in Atlantic Christian College. Mr. Hodges received his transfer last April, and they sailed aboard the S. S. President Coolidge, May 6, via Honolulu, Yokohama, Shanghai, and Manila. Catherine writes that Davao City has a population of approximately 50,000, with a large Japanese element. The whites are in the minority as to numbers, but they make up a rather congenial group.

Elizabeth (Whitbeck) Donovan lives in Chapel Hill, where her husband is a member of the faculty of the University. They have a year-old son, Michael. Elizabeth is expecting to complete the work for her Ph.D.

1935

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Horton (Margaret Banks), a daughter, Margaret Banks Horton, June 21, Los Angeles, Cal.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Daught-ridge (Martha Spruill Everett), a son, Albert Sidney, Jr., September 13, Lakeland, Fla.

Margaret Hamlin spent her vacation in New York, attending the World's Fair. Another major attraction which claimed her presence was the wedding of her brother in New York.

Frances Kernodle visited her parents in Greensboro last summer. She returned early in the fall to the University of Texas, Austin, where she is resident business director of Woman's Building.

Susanne (Ketchum) Sherman had a fine summer at Provincetown, Mass., where she and her husband worked with the Wharf Theatre. Susanne had charge of properties, and her husband was production manager and scenic designer. This winter, the Shermans are at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., where Mr. Sherman is assistant in dramatics.

Alice Marie Squires was elected second vice president of the Pennsylvania Baptist Young Peoples' Convention at the annual meeting held at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., last June.

By way of a vacation jaunt last summer, Zora and Dorothy Yarbrough made a tour through the western part of the United States and Canada.

1936

Evelyn Cavileer is spending the winter with her parents in Montclair, N. J. Now that Evelyn, she with the many friends, is back in the metropolitan area, she has seen numerous Woman's College folks. Idalene Gulledge, now Mrs. Eugene Smith, lives at Roselle, N. J., about ten miles from Montclair. Evelyn also met her college roommate, Louise George, in New York during the summer. Louise is back in Columbia, S. C., this winter, teaching music in the city school system, and directing a choir in one of the large churches. Lucile (Byrd) Shaw and her husband, Dr. Chandler Shaw, formerly a member of the faculty in the Department of History at Woman's College, were in New York for a while last summer. Writes Evelyn: "Together we lunched in sumptuous hotel salons, dined in funny little sidewalk cafes, cried during the last act of 'The American Way,' danced to famous swing bands, and of course talked." Mary Rives and Margaret Bunn '37 were also part of the "cast." The Shaws are living in Bethany, W. Va., where Dr. Shaw is a member of the faculty of the University of West Virginia. His new book, Etruscan Perugia, was published last summer under the sponsorship of Johns Hopkins University. He is now engaged in writing a book on medieval culture. Mary Rives is working in the State Laboratories, Raleigh. Margaret is again teaching in Henderson. Walking down 42nd street late one afternoon, whom should Evelyn see but Janice Tetterton. They stopped and chatted in the midst of the milling throng. Katharine Walling gets into the story. She spent her freshman year at Woman's College, later graduating from Potsdam State Teachers College. Together she and Evelyn listened as Barbara Graves '35, secretary to one of the executives of the New York World's Fair, was interviewed over the air on the "Americans at Work" program. Evelyn also had news of Sarah Ambrose, laboratory technician for three physicians in Greensboro, who is sharing an apartment with Christine Weeks '35. Carmen Austin, by the way, she writes, is teaching again in High Point, and Frances Boyette presides over a first grade in Danville. Carmen and Frances started to New York last summer, but had a slight accident, and so turned back. "And this afternoon," concludes Evelyn, "I am having tea with Faith Bissell. Perhaps she will have other class news."

Mary Frances Young has been director of religious education at Mayodan and Walnut Cove for more than a year. The summer after her graduation from Woman's College, Mary Frances went to Columbia University, where she studied and did settlement work. That fall, she worked at St. Olive's Mission, Charlottesville, Va. In January, 1937, she entered the Philadelphia Church Training School, received her diploma in the summer of 1938, and came immediately to Mayodan. She likes her work very much — mischievous boys and all!

1937

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert (Latane Bartlett ex-37), a son, July 23, San Antonio, Texas.

Edna (Baker) Carpenter, recorder in the Graduate School of Arts and Science, Duke University, is having an interesting time explaining the sunburn she acquired while on vacation. She and her husband left Durham in their car the first of September, and drove South, by way of New Orleans, Galveston, El Paso, crossing the border at Juarez, Mexico. From there

Dial 8193 and let

The Columbia Laundry

do it.

Launderers and Dry Cleaners

Battleground Ave. at Cedar St.

HOME OF SOCIETY PINS

207 South Elm

Phone 2 0044

Eatman-Smith Co.

Athletic Equipment

Sport Clothing

General Electric Appliances

224 North Elm

they went on to Los Angeles and Hollywood, with San Francisco and the World's Fair as their destination. Edna says they saw all the usual things—the Petrified Forest, the Grand Canyon, Boulder Dam, Yellowstone, and all the rest of it. Their speedometer totalled 8,500 miles for the trip. But as to the sunburn—she maintains that it is of three varieties—that which was acquired when they went swimming in the Gulf of Mexico, in the Pacific Ocean, and in the Great Salt Lake!

Margaret (DeVany) Winstead is supervisor of music in the five schools in Roxboro. She also conducts the high school glee club. "Vacation" was spent last summer completing a new home.

Helen Eshelman was dietitian last summer at Lakeside Lodge, Lake Junaluska.

Eileen Gamble is a full-time student this year at the New York School of Social Work. She has already completed approximately half the requirements for her diploma from this school.

Katherine Lee Gilbert is teaching this winter in the Asheville High School. Marjorie Lee is teaching in the same department. They were roommates for three years when at Woman's College, and they have an apartment together in Asheville.

Evelyn Johnson has a secretarial position in Roanoke Rapids.

Isabelle Moseley has entered upon her new job as dairy marketing specialist with the State Department of Agriculture. As the Greensboro Daily News remarked about her appointment—it seems to us that this department "has got something there." Since her graduation, Isabelle has been teaching home economics, first in the Rocky Mount schools, and last year in the Chapel Hill system. Moreover, she was a quality student in college, and she has the liking and the confidence of many friends made at alma mater.

Patte Pitman is now connected with the State Museum, Raleigh, where she does some photography, painting of backgrounds, and secretarial work.

Geraldine Spinks is teaching the interesting combination of Latin, French, civics in the Hanes High School, Winston-Salem.

Jane Womble is now a member of the staff of the Kate Bitings Reynolds Memorial Hospital in Winston-Salem. Previously Jane had been connected with the Piedmont Memorial Hospital, Greensboro. She served her internship at the University of Michigan Hospital.

1938

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McFadyen (Margaret Mahaffey), a son, Henry Christian, Jr., September 19, Albemarle.

Georgia (Arnett) Bonds and her husband visited Dr. and Mrs. Arnett during August. While here, they were guests of honor at several social occasions. The Bonds were married in February and are now living in Baton Rouge, where Mr. Bonds is assistant to the Dean of the Graduate School at Louisiana State University.

Laura Bateman, pastoral assistant at the Eller Memorial Baptist Church, Greensboro, was guest speaker at the Woman's Missionary Society meeting of the First Baptist Church, Greensboro, in July.

Gertrude Clark is studying again this year at the School of Sacred Music, Union Theological Seminary, New York City. During September she presented an organ recital in the recital hall of the Music Building at Woman's College.

Sheila Corley is back again at the University of Louisiana, working toward an M.A. degree in English, which she will probably receive in January or February next.

Martha E. Hodges has a secretarial position with the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, at their plant, Carney's Point, N. J.

Mildred Mashburn is teaching in the Wilson schools this winter. She studied at Columbia University last summer.

Lelah Nell Masters vacationed in New York as a guest of Annie Lee Singletary, who had an apartment there for the summer.

Frances Mullican studied last year in the School of Library Science, Chapel Hill, receiving her A.B. degree in June.

Nan Norwine ran a hotel at Lake Placid last summer, and says she had a grand time doing it. She is spending this winter at her home in Flat River, Mo. Going and coming last summer, Nan says she made frequent stops and detours, travelled more than three thousand miles, and saw something of twelve different states and Canada.

Elнора Raiff is laboratory technician at Valdesse General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. David Rogol announce the engagement of their daughter, Rebecca, to Mr. Sam Winter, of Columbia, S. C. The wedding will take place next spring.

Alice Walters is teaching public school music, Alexander Wilson School, Mebane.

Mary Withers is in Washington City, where she is engaged in doing secretarial work.

Frances Womble began her work in August as assistant in dietetics at Pes-savant Memorial Hospital on the campus of the University of Chicago. She just completed a year's course in hospital dietetics at Michel Reese Hospital, Chicago.

1939

Dot Adams is assistant to Bayard Wooten, photographer, Chapel Hill. Last summer she taught archery in a private camp for girls, on Lake James, Western North Carolina.

Florence G. Albright, at home, Roselle, N. J. Florence vacationed in New England.

Imo Jean Anthony is teaching mathematics and English, Bailey High

JOS. J. STONE & COMPANY

Printers and Bookbinders

Everything for the office

225 South Davie Street • • GREENSBORO, N. C.

School. Last summer she worked with the Training Union Department of the State Baptist Convention.

Margaretta Austin, at home, High Point.

Gretchen Aycock, assistant Home Management Supervisor, Farm Security Administration, Wake County, with headquarters in Raleigh. Gretchen commenced this work on July 1st, and finds it interesting.

Jean Baille, taking business course, McDonald, Pa.

Corinna Bain, sixth grade, Kannapolis. She also assists with the music.

Mary Rachel Barnes, at home, Wilson.

Edith Barrier, home economics in high school, Hudson.

Mary Jane Beckerdite, student dietitian, Watts Hospital, Durham.

Katherine Davis Bernhardt, studying at the Tulane University School of Social Work, New Orleans.

Margaret Best, commercial subjects in high school, Kipling.

Lucille Bethea, fourth grade, Sanford.

Frances Boland, commercial subjects, Scotland Neck.

Avis Bolderson, at home, Fall River, Mass.

Edith Boliek, vocational home economics in high school, Rich Square.

Helen Bolling, physical education in high school and grammar school, Rocky Mount. Last summer, Helen was at Camp Betty Hastings, Winston-Salem.

Elizabeth Bonham, at home, Bergenfield, N. J.

Helen Book, laboratory technician, Thompson Memorial Hospital, Lumberton.

Edna Earl Bostick, secretarial work, Cooperative G.L.F. Exchange, Inc., Ithaca, N. Y.

Doris Hope Bowman, general science and social science in high school, Concord.

Catherine Brabble, chemistry technician, Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mary Katherine Bradley, at home, Greensboro.

Ethel Braxton, secretarial work, Brooks, McLendon and Holderness law firm, Greensboro. Ethel vacationed at the beach.

Ruth Brewer, commercial subjects in high school, Apex.

Josephine Brick, staying with sister, Washington, D. C. Last summer Josephine did recreational and group work as a student resident at the Irene Kaufmann Settlement in Pittsburgh.

Frances Brinkley, sixth grade, High Point. Frances spent five weeks of the summer in a hospital, but says she is feeling fine now. She was in Williamsburg, Va., for a week before beginning her work in High Point.

Betty Brookshire, English and French in high school, Campobello, S. C.

Jamie Virginia Brown, secretarial work, Dave Oestreicher Company, Salisbury.

Pauline Brownlee, secretarial course, Spartanburg, S. C. About the middle of October, Pauline visited her roommate, Mary Wright, in New York City.

Edna Buchanan, secretarial work, Hospital Saving Association of North Carolina, Inc., Chapel Hill. Edna began her work on June 18.

Helen Louise Bumgarner, commercial subjects in her home town high school, Wilkesboro. Helen is organizing the department, and teaches seven classes each day. She spent three weeks last summer in Richmond, Washington, and at West Point.

Eleanor Bundy, laboratory technician, Allens' Invalid Home, Milledgeville, Ga. Eleanor says she is enjoying her work very much.

Mary Ann Burdge, home economics, Samarcand Manor, Eagle Springs. Mary Ann was in Vermont for two weeks last summer.

Jean Cannon, second grade, Zebulon. She visited the World's Fair in New York last summer.

Miss Wilmina Rowland, Director of Religious Activities, and a group of students, discussing a problem in the religious activities center, South Spencer Hall.

Call us for your transportation needs

We appreciate your patronage

Union Bus Station

Phone 6151

Helen Callahan, commercial subjects in high school, Harrisburg.

Jeanne Carey, secretarial course, Katharine Gibbs school, Providence, R. I.

Catherine Carpenter, studying at the Francis Payne Bolton School of Nursing, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

Hazel Carson, librarian, Vidette, Ga.

Edna Cartwright, history and Latin in high school, Glen Bernie, Md. Edna spent her vacation in Saint Petersburg, Fla.

Jane Clegg, elementary grades, Forest City.

Mary Kathryn Coble, commercial subjects in high school, Aberdeen.

Mary Elizabeth Cochrane, art and English in high school, Concord. Mary Elizabeth says that more than 150 alumnae of Woman's College were present at the annual reception and dance given by the Concord Rotary Club early in the fall for all teachers from Concord, Kannapolis, and Cabarrus County.

Ruth E. Cole, fourth and fifth grades, Odell School, Concord.

Helen Cook, stenographer, Chemical Bank, New York City.

Katherine Cooper, voice, piano, public school music in high school, Seaboard.

Minerva Coppage, secretarial work, Raleigh.

Elizabeth Cowherd, case worker, Salem, Va.

Geraldine Cox, doing advanced study, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Judy Couzzen, girls' worker, Kingsley Settlement House, New Orleans. During the summer, Judy worked on the playground staff at Kingsley House, and was also a counsellor at the settlement camp on the Gulf of Mexico.

Elisabeth Craft, home economics in high school, Winecoff School, near Concord.

Pauline Craft, home economics in high school, Germantown.

Blois Crawford, second grade, near Greenville.

Mary Jane Crenshaw, biology in high school, Concord.

Frances Crockett, secretarial work, New York City. Frankie commutes from her home in Montclair, N. J.

Elizabeth Crosby, first grade, Griffith School, near Winston-Salem.

Louise Crowell, second through sixth grades, Durham city schools.

Henrietta Currin, home economics in high school, Woodland.

Elna Daniels, home economics in high school, Walterboro, S. C. During vacation, Elna went to Connecticut and to the New York World's Fair.

Louise Darden, secretary to county superintendent of schools, Jackson. Louise began her work on the first of July.

Virginia Dearman, second grade, Huntersville.

Ann Dees, English and history in high school, Kannapolis.

Helen Dennis, interne in dietetics, Riley Hospital, Indianapolis.

Doris Lee Dozier, secretarial work, Elizabeth City.

Carolyn Dukes, home economics, Lindley Junior High School, Greensboro.

Sarah Virginia Dunlap, secretarial work, State Department of Education, Raleigh.

Selma James Dunn, librarian and teacher of history, Rankin High School, near Greensboro. Selma attended summer school, and visited in Washington City during the summer.

Jane Dupuy, graduate work in medicine, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Virginia Edwards, home economics in high school, Jonesboro.

Virginia M. Eggleston, taking secretarial course, Morristown, N. J. Last summer Virginia attended the French Institute at Penn State, and her work there will go toward an M.A. degree.

Dorothy Elkins, social settlement work, Norfolk House Centre, Boston, Mass.

Rachel Emmett, at home, New York City.

Marion Endfield, at home, Scranton, Pa.

Mary R. Epps, instrumental music in high schools of Wayne County, Pikeville. During the summer, Mary played the violin in the Asheville Civic Orchestra.

Muriel Fairbanks, graduate study in music, Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. During the summer, Muriel was soloist in one of the churches in her home town, Freehold, N. J.

Frances Fentress, taking secretarial course, Woman's College, U. N. C., Greensboro.

Dorothy Ficker, taking secretarial course, Greenwich, Conn.

Pauline Fields, sixth grade, Silk Hope School, near Siler City.

Marion W. Fisher, laboratory technician, Thompson Memorial Hospital, Lumberton.

Martha Eleanor Floyd, English in junior high school, Roanoke Rapids.

Virginia Foy, member of the staff, Meyer's Department Store, Greensboro.

Frances Furr, commercial subjects in high school, Taylorsville. Frances spent the summer in Europe.

Margaret Galloway, secretarial work, Burlington Mills office, Greensboro.

Alice Galbreath, Spanish, Latin, and English in high school, near Russell, Pa.

Maxine Garner, English, history, and journalism in high school, Roanoke Rapids.

Anne Garrison, U. S. probation clerk, Shelby. Anne assumed her duties early in July.

Miriam Ashe Gault, physical education, Chatham Hall, Chatham, Va. Miriam started work on her M.A. degree last summer at New York University.

Julia Bright Godwin, secretarial work, North Carolina Department of Agriculture, Raleigh.

Sara Gray, at home, Guilford College.

Jane Grier, dietetics, Davis Hospital, Statesville.

Jane Griffith, graduate study in art, Columbia University, New York City. Jane has an apartment with Susan Barksdale '39, who is also studying art at Columbia. During the summer, Jane was a member of the art colony at Beaufort.

Tennis Supplies Balls Rackets

• •

We can restring your rackets

PROMPT SERVICE
REASONABLE PRICE

• •

Odell Hardware Co.

Mary Francis Gyles, X-ray and laboratory, South Boston Hospital, South Boston, Va. During the summer, Mary Francis did supply work at Marion General Hospital, Marion, and at St. Leo's Hospital, Greensboro.

Alice Haines, general science, biology, geography in high school, Southmont.

Ruth Hamilton, typing and English in the eighth grade, Graham. Ruth was a visitor at the World's Fair in New York last summer.

Evelyn C. Hall, French, English, and typing in high school, Madison. Evelyn is also sponsor for the high school newspaper and the Beta Club.

Sally Hargrove, third grade, Bethel.

Emily Harris, graduate study in English, University of Virginia, Charlottesville.

Reva May Heidinger, graduate study, Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

Wilma Helsabeck, at home, Ether.

Elinor Henderson, home economics in high school, Chapel Hill. Elinor says that during the summer she "annexed a red car and lost her appendix!"

Helen Henderson, commercial subjects in high school, Unionville.

Mary Wilson Henderson, laboratory technician, Valdese.

Jane Highsmith, sixth grade, Troutmans.

Grace Hilford, assistant in Sociology Department, Woman's College, U. N. C., Greensboro. Last summer Grace was recreational activities assistant at the Irene Kaufmann Settlement, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Paula Hobgood, secretarial work, Greensboro Weaving Company.

Irene Horn, commercial subjects in high school, Coolemeec.

Frances Horner, commercial subjects in high school, Clinton.

Grace Mildred Howell, secretarial work, State Department of Agriculture, Raleigh.

Kathryn Hurdle, graduate study on M. A. degree, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Hannah Huske, substitute teaching in high school, Fayetteville.

Doris Hutchinson, physical education in high school, Greensboro.

Margaret Idol, estate clerk, office of Clerk of Superior Court, Greensboro.

Mildred James, fifth grade, Raeford.

Margaret Jones, home economics in high school, Orrum. During vacation Margaret was dietitian at Camp Sidney, near Tryon, and vacationed in the mountains.

Sarah Wilson Jones, commercial subjects in high school, Mount Airy. During the summer, Sarah worked in the office of the Myrtle Desk Company, High Point, and spent her vacation at the World's Fair, the New England states, and Montreal, Canada.

Irma Jordan, commercial subjects in high school, Snow Hill. Irma also has a class of teachers who are taking typing after school.

Frances Joyner, commercial subjects in Hugh Morson high school, Raleigh.

Phyllis Keister, graduate assistant in chemistry, Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass.

Martha D. Kellar, graduate study, Columbia University, New York City.

Rachel Kelly, home economics and civics in high school, Ronda.

Eleanor Kerchner, secretarial work, policy loan department, Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro. Last summer Eleanor visited Dorothy Rossland in Short Hills, N. J., and worked at Meyer's department store, Greensboro, for two months previous to her present job.

York Kiker, home economics and civics in high school, Forest City.

Marjory Kinney, instructor in physical education, Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa. Last summer, Marjory was head of tennis at Blue Mountain Camp, East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Dorothy M. Kolman, secretarial work, General Electric Company, Pittsfield, Mass. During the summer, Dorothy was interne at Montrose School for Girls, Reisterstown, Md.

Leanna Koonce, English and library science in high school, Erwin.

Jenny LaSpina, taking secretarial course, Newark, N. J. Jenny plans to attend the New York School of Social Work next summer.

Edna Laws, first grade, Grifton.

Lillian Lee, at home, Clayton. Lillian is especially interested in history, reading, newspaper work, and church work.

MARRIED

Maude Pharr Query '26 to John Randolph Kelsy, August 11, historic Sugaw Creek, Presbyterian Church, near Charlotte. Maude is director of the Lancaster (S. C.) County Library. The bridegroom is a graduate of Clemson College, and is now connected with the Bank of Lancaster.

Dorothy Thompson '28 to Monson Dillard Shell, August 4, parsonage of the First Baptist Church, Suffolk, Va. The bridegroom is an alumnus of High Point College, and is in government service, with headquarters in Norfolk, Va.

Katharine High '29 to Freeman Wainwright Barnes, September 2, at the home of the bride's brother, New York City. The bridegroom is a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is associated with Hurdman and Cranstoun, certified accountants, New York City.

Frances Bennette Moore '29 to Dr. Watson Wharton Rankin, September 23, Sprunt Memorial Presbyterian Church, Chapel Hill. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College, Raleigh, and of Atlanta Southern Dental College. He is now practicing dentistry in Raleigh.

Nellie Blair Sheffield '29 to William Benjamin Moore, August 4, Mount Carmel Methodist Church, Reidsville. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, and is a member of the Maysville school faculty.

Ruth Anderson '30 to Wilbur Leroy Hodgkin, June 3, New Bern.

Mabel Holland '30 to Broadus Bryan Wright, October 28, West Market Street Methodist Church, Greensboro. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and is now in business in Washington City.

PHIL R. CARLTON, Inc.

Real Estate - Rents - Bonding

INSURANCE

Carlton Building, Opposite Courthouse

Dial 8157

For the best follow the college girls to their favorite spot

THE GRILL

407 Tate St.

Phones 7306-9465

Roslyn Clark Southerland '30 to Samuel Alexander Harris III, August 12, First Presbyterian Church, Mount Olive. The bridegroom is superintendent of Briggs Shaffner Machinery Company, Winston-Salem.

Ruby Spencer Milliken '31 to Roy W. Neville at the home of the bride's parents, Morganton. The bridegroom is director of styling and designing for Tomlinson Furniture Company, High Point.

Zelma Gray Parker '31 to William David Starling, June 24, Grace Methodist Church, Wilmington. The bridegroom is an alumnus of State College, Raleigh, and of the Norfolk School of Business Administration. He now holds a position with the Atlantic Refining Company. At home Smithfield.

Nellie Wheeler '31 to Robert Marion Menzies, June 20, New Garden Friends Church, Guilford College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Davidson College, with special study at Columbia University. He is now doing advertising work for the Charlotte Observer, and contributes to several papers in the State. Formerly he was connected with Time and Liberty magazines, and has done publicity work for the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Louise H. Whittington '31 to Joseph P. Smith, July 6, Miami, Fla. The bridegroom is president of the firm of Smith Brothers Drug Company, Baltimore.

"The Talk Of The Town"

ARNOLD'S

Smartly Styled Apparel for Misses and Women

Dial 2-1753

112 N. Elm St. Greensboro, N. C.

SHOP AT

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO.

AND SAVE

SEBURN'S, INC.

REGISTERED JEWELERS

American Gem Society

116 North Elm Street

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Sae May Hendren '32 to Edwin Clyde Banner, Jr., September 5, Methodist Church, Galax, Va. The bridegroom is an alumnus of The Citadel, Charleston, S. C., and is with the Tennessee-Eastman Corporation, Kingsport, Tenn.

Elizabeth Jeannette Davis '33 to William Stewart Horton, July 6, Pfafftown Christian Church. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Davidson College and has done graduate work at the University of North Carolina and at Duke University. He is principal of the Rural Hall School.

Mary Elizabeth Herrington '33 to Thomas Love Patrick, August 5, Methodist Church, Newport. The bridegroom is a graduate of Davidson College and teaches in the Woodleaf High School.

Ruth Johnson '33 to Carl Duncan Downing, July 8, Rutherford College, At home Winston-Salem.

Madge Kenyon '33 to Benjamin Franklin Marce, August 5, College Place Methodist Church, Greensboro. The bridegroom, a graduate of Appalachian State Teachers College, is a member of the Rutherford-Spindale High School faculty.

Lucy Mayfield '33 to Samuel Trueblood Brown, June 24, Union Methodist Church, Weldon. Katherine Mayfield '38 was her sister's maid-of-honor.

Marguerite Butner '34 to J. C. Avery, Jr., in July. The bridegroom is an alumnus of State College, Raleigh, and is connected with Duke Power Company. At home Winston-Salem.

Emma Rebecca Cole '34 to Harry James Waggle, July 15, South Boston, Va. The bridegroom is a graduate of Purdue University, and is connected with the B. F. Starveant Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Mae Hant '34 to Currie Otis Smith, Jr., June 11, First Presbyterian Church, Greensboro.

Ruth Long '34 to Everal Nordstrom, June 24, Port Allegany, Pa.

Laivora Sally '34 to Herbert W. Ehrhardt, Jr., May 27, Pinchurst Community Church. The bridegroom is a graduate of Newberry College, Newberry, S. C., and now holds a position in the state office of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Greensboro. At home there.

Jessiebeth Whitlock '34 to Edwin Bru-ton Peacock, August 22, Wilmington. At home Norfolk, Va.

Jane Costner '35 to James Hunter Ware, September 6, Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Lincolnton.

Lee Ona Hughes '35 to Clarence Eugene Phillips, June 21, Presbyterian Church, Parkton. Gladys Hughes '29 was her sister's maid of honor. The bridegroom is a graduate of Duke University and is now associated with his father in the real estate firm of C. E. Phillips & Son. At home Durham.

Heath Long '35 to James Payne Beckwith, October 21, Church of the Good Shepherd, Raleigh. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, and also received his M.A. degree there. At home Kinston.

Charlotte Porter com-'35 to John E. Barney, October 7, First Presbyterian Church, Greensboro. The bridegroom is the third son of Dr. W. S. Barney, head of the Department of Romance Languages, Woman's College. Mr. Barney is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, where he was president and manager of the Glee Club, member of Sigma Chi fraternity, and of Phi Beta Kappa. He is connected in business with the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro.

Alice Taylor '35 to William E. Stanley, July 11, Centenary Methodist Church, New Bern. Christine Weeks '35 was one of the bridesmaids. The bridegroom is assistant manager of the New Bern store of J. C. Penny & Company.

Alice Thomas '35 to Dan F. Abston, August 29, Chadbourne. The bridegroom is employed by the State Board of Health. At home Raleigh.

Roberta Wakefield '35 to George Pritchett, August 4, at the home of the bride's parents, Guilford College. Kathleen Wakefield '37 played the wedding music. At home Elon College.

Louise Davis Bell '36 to David Jefferson Crowell, July 22, at the home of the bride's parents, Mooresville. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College, Raleigh. He is now superintendent of the Cannon Mill at Central, S. C.

Lucile Byrd '36 to Dr. Chandler Shaw, June 16, at the home of the bride's parents, Elizabethtown. Lucile studied at the Carnegie Library School, Pittsburgh, Pa., after graduating from Woman's College, and was assistant librarian with the Sewickley, Pa., Public Library before becoming librarian at Henderson High School last year. The bridegroom is a graduate of Rollins College and holds his Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina. He is now professor of history at Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va.

Catherine Winfield Davis '36 to Donald Rayer Dunlap, July 13. The bridegroom is a graduate of Rollins College, and at present is teaching and serving as athletic coach in the Roxboro High School.

Sarah Frances Henderson '36 to Walter Carr Cox, June 8, First Baptist Church, Lumberton. The bridegroom is a graduate of Wake Forest College and a member of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity. He is principal of the Pink Hall city schools. At home Engelhard.

Elizabeth Manden '36 to David J. Griffin, July 2, Front Street Methodist Church, Burlington. The bridegroom is connected in business with the Tower

Manufacturing Company, Burlington, where they are at home.

Katherine Sikes '36 to Edward Elliott Crutchfield, June 15, at the home of the bride's parents, Albemarle. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Wake Forest Law School, and is a member of the North Carolina Bar Association. At present he is connected with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the United States Department of Justice.

Susie Parrott Sugg '36 to Simpson Martin Parker, June 21, Christian Church, Kinston.

Margaret Tippet '36 to Roland E. Blair, June 18, High Point. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Drake University and is associated with a finance company in Asheville.

Ether May Brown '37 to J. Lander Gray, Jr., July 22, Gatesville Methodist Church, Gatesville, Nell Riddick '40, Julia Brown Hudgins '39, and Edith Edmondson '37 were among the bridesmaids. The bridegroom is an alumnus of University Military Academy, and of Duke University. At present he is associated with his father in textile manufacturing in Gastonia.

Wilma Hardison '37 to Leo Wynns, Jr., August 22, Methodist Church, Arapahoe. Winifred Hardison '36 was her sister's maid-of-honor. The bridegroom is a graduate of Chowan College. At home Windsor.

Grace Harriman '37 to Edward Lawrence Morrison, Jr., July 27, Stamford, Conn. Eloise Eiland '37 was maid-of-honor. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and continued his studies at the Yale College Graduate School of Social Science. He is now in the Traffic Department of the United States Rubber Company. At home New York City.

Althea Hough '37 to Lieutenant Walker McRae Vann, September 2, Oak Ridge Chapel, Oak Ridge. Martha Andrews '37 was her only attendant. The bridegroom is a graduate of the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y. At home Panama, where Lt. Vann is on duty with the United States Army.

Mary Helen King, '37 to Charles Morris Platt, July 29, Congregational Church, St. Joseph, Mo. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Kansas State College School of Journalism, and is managing editor of the Morning Chronicle, Manhattan, Kan. At home there.

Annie Rebecca Mackie '37 to Thomas Clair High, August 2, First Baptist Church, Granite Falls. At home Wendell.

Gladys Pritchard '37 to Joseph Thurman Smith, September 3, Elizabeth City. At home Clayton.

Ida Louise Brock '38 to John Fowle Bowers, July 22, First Methodist Church, Elizabeth City. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Virginia Episcopal School and of Wake Forest College. At present he is representative for a tobacco company, with headquarters in Elizabeth City.

Calena Brothers '38 to Edward Lewis Herring, August 12, First Methodist Church, Rocky Mount. Margaret Brothers '38, twin sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. The bridegroom is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He is associated with the Commercial Investigation Trust Company, Raleigh.

Mary Grace Davis '38 to William Jackson Scott, July 29, Church of Christ, Pfafftown. The bridegroom is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina and a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. He is principal of City View School, near Winston-Salem.

Marie McNeely '38 to Leon Gurley Stone, July 15, Danville, Va. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, and is now in the payroll department of Proximity Manufacturing Company.

Margaret Tyson '38 to Hal Rowe Marsh, June 24, First Baptist Church, Georgetown, S. C. Nell Tyson '39 was her sister's maid-of-honor. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of Delta Sigma Pi fraternity. He is connected with the home office of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro.

Penelope Watkins '38 to John Drake Palmer, June 29, Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, Henderson. The bridegroom is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina and holds a position with the Southern Tobacco Company, Wilson.

Forrest Hale Nimocks '39 to Thomas Aloysius Graham, Jr., July 22. At home St. Augustine, Fla.

Nelle Sturkey '39 to Avery Welzy Willis, June 9, at the home of the bride's grandmother, Albemarle. Mary Elizabeth Taylor '39 assisted in the musical program. The bridegroom is a graduate of Mars Hill College and of Appalachian State Teachers College. He is principal of the Lincoln School, Bryan, Ohio, where they are at home.

Betty Trimble '39 to John Selater Kent, Jr., September 7, First Baptist Church, Greensboro. The bridegroom is a graduate of Riverside Military Academy and is a member of Kappa Delta Kappa fraternity. He is connected with the Gate City Life Insurance Company, Salisbury.

Pearle Channess '39 to Sherman E. Hines, September 30, at the home of the bride's parents, Blenheim, S. C. The bridegroom is connected with Proximity Print Works, Greensboro.

Mary Jo Curry '39 to Walter Lee

Zachary, June 14, First Lutheran Church, Lexington. The bridegroom is a graduate of Wake Forest College and is a practicing attorney in Yadkinville.

NECROLOGY

IN MEMORIAM

1898

Mamie McGehee (Mrs. William J. McAnally), August 13, St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington. For many years, until the time of the short illness preceding her death, Mrs. McAnally had lived in High Point, where her husband practices medicine. She is survived by him and seven children, two of whom, like their father, are also physicians.

1932

Frances Garland Cartland, member of the Class of 1932, died September 9, at her home in Pleasantsville, N. J., after an illness of two weeks. Previous to her death, she was dietitian in the Pleasantsville Nursery School.

1934

Katharine Maynard died on July 31, 1938, at her home in Wilson. She had

The College Girl's Favorite Store for

QUALITY CLOTHES

Ellis Stone & Co

DICK'S LAUNDRY
COMPANY

Launderers and Dry Cleaners

GREENSBORO, N. C.

been ill for more than two years. For two years after graduation, she taught piano in the Ellerbe School. To her sister, Christie (Maynard) McLeod '30 our especial sympathy is extended.

We Extend Deepest Sympathy

To Sudie Israel Wolfe '94, in the death of her husband, Mr. Harry F. Wolfe, August 25, who died as the result of an accident received eleven days before.

To Ruth Gunter '14, in the death of her sister during October.

To Fannie S. (Mitchell) Sellars '14, in the death of her mother, after an illness of several years, during October, Greensboro.

To Annie Beam Funderburk '16, and Mary S. Beam Fonville '23, in the death of their brother, in Shelby, the latter part of October.

To Christine (Beaman) Darden '19, in the death of her mother last June.

To Millie Pearson '19, whose father died last January.

To Mary Alice (Culp) Daniels '29, in the death of her father early in October.

To Annie Mae Flowe '31, in the death of her father on September 16, Indian Trail.

To Ruby Blalock com-32, and Frances Blalock com-35, in the death of their father, W. A. Blalock, July 6, Greensboro.

To Pattie Pitman '37, in the death of her brother, a graduate of State College, last June.

GREETINGS

MANUEL'S RESTAURANT

"We Serve the Very Best"

Special attention to college always

For Smart Clothes at

Savings Shop at

Montgomery Ward & Co.

222 S. Elm St.

Portrait of an Average Evening

By

DOROTHY EDWARDS SUMMERLOW 1930

*I tiptoe slowly down this padded stair
Away from where my scrap of daughter lies,*

To stand, amused, a moment watching where

You sit, emitting mock despairing sighs.

"Asleep?" So well I know the word your lips

Will frame, so well the glow of loving looks!

Then, laughing, we exchange parental quips

Before I turn to scribbling, you to books.

Another world will hold us in its thrall.

Thus time will pass, and later we will go

To watch her bug, relaxed, her legless doll.

We'll smooth a sheet, then cover up a toe—

With smiles I turn to you and grasp your hand,

For words are needless when two understand.

—Reprinted from

North America Book of Verse.

Current Publications by Members of the Faculty

BOOKS

Givler, J. P.

Laboratory directions for general biology, by J. P. Givler and E. Inez Coldwell. 7th ed. W.C.U.N.C. 1938.

Hurley, L. B.

Nelson's College Caravan. Compiled by A. P. Hudson, L. B. Hurley, and J. D. Clark. Rev. ed. Thomas Nelson & Sons. 1939.

Kendrick, B. B.

United States Since 1865. By J. M. Hacker and B. B. Kendrick. 3d ed. F. S. Crofts & Co. 1939.

Lyle, Guy R.

Classified List of periodicals for the College Library. By Guy R. Lyle and Virginia M. Trumper. 2d ed. F. W. Faxon Co. 1938.

Survey of the University of Georgia Library. By L. R. Wilson, Harvie Branscomb, R. N. Dunbar and Guy R. Lyle. A.L.A. 1939.

Tate, Allen

America Through the Essay: an Anthology for English Courses. Compiled by A. T. Johnson and Allen Tate. Oxford University Press. 1938.

The Fathers. A novel of the South. G. P. Putnam's Sons. 1938.

MAGAZINE ARTICLES

Edwards, Margaret M.

Home Economics Column. High School Journal. May 1939.

Givler, J. P.

Biology and Drawing. Turtox News. January 1939.

Picture collections: how to rescue, organize, and store them. A.L.A. Bulletin. 29-32. 50. January 1939.

How Readest Thou? Bois. October 1939.

Hardre, Rene

Preparation of our French Teachers. N. C. Education. December 1938.

More, Grace Van Dyke

Music Education Trends. N. C. Education. December 1938.

Rosa, Bess N.

Chores Work, or Fun. National Parent-Teacher. April 1939.

Discussing Marriage and the Home with Young Men and Women. Journal of Home Economics. January 1939.

Tate, Allen

Eclogue of the Liberal and the Liberal Poet. Partizan Review. Winter 1939.

Thid, Albert F.

Overwintering of Urediniospores of Puccinia Graminis Tritici in North Carolina. Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society. Journal. December 1938.

Warfield, Calvin N.

Simplified and Compact Tricolor Mixing Device. American Physics Teacher. August 1938.

Wilson, George P.

American Dictionaries and Pronunciation. American Speech. December 1939. Incorrect Standard Spelling. Words. April. May 1939.

BOOK REVIEWS

Hussey, Minnie M.

My Son, My Son, by Howard Spring. National Parent-Teacher. November 1938.

Keister, Albert S.

Business and Government. By C. C. Rohlfing, et al. Southern Economics Journal. January 1939.

General Economics, by Broadus Mitchell; Problems in Economics, by W. K. Keikhofer; Elements in Modern Economics, by A. L. Meyers; Backward Art of Spending Money and Other Essays by W. C. Mitchell. Social Forces. March 1939.

Lyle, Guy R.

Standards for College Buildings, by E. S. Evenden and others. Library Journal. March 1939.

Rowland, Wilmina

Religious Resources for Personal Living and Social Action, by Kirby Page. Greensboro Daily News. February 19, 1939.

Labrador Logbook, by Sir Wilfred Grenfell. Intercollegian. 127. March 1939.

Tate, Allen

This Was a Poet. A critical biography of Emily Dickinson, by George Frisboe Whicher. Kenyon Review. Spring 1939.

Remember: You Always Save at Belk's

BELK'S INVITE YOU TO SEE THEIR

Flattering Favorites

COATS · DRESSES · HATS · SHOES · NOTIONS

All college girls will love our advance styles . . . and you'll refresh your spirits, wardrobe and appearance at such a small cost. We like to see you . . . even if you don't buy! Come in today!

BELK'S

Greensboro's Most Popular Department Store

BY THE WAY
...PAUSE
AND REFRESH

Park...and pause...where you see the red sign that says "Drink Coca-Cola." It flashes a welcome invitation to enjoy a sociable pause for pure refreshment. Thirst asks nothing more.

GREENSBORO COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

Lovely Brides

—They look to us for the essential clothes for their most memorable occasion.

We are indeed proud of the long list of brides who give us our due share of credit for the beauty of their trousseaux.

We shall be happy to give you the benefit of our long experience . . . call on us.

the NEW Brownhill's

A FEW STEPS FROM THE SQUARE

GREENSBORO

- furs
- suits
- gowns
- frocks
- costumes
- formals
- coats

Make the Most of Your Legs with

MOJUD
Clari-phane
SILK STOCKINGS

Sheath them in the loveliness of sheer clear stockings that cling like a second skin, and flatter them shamelessly! And remember, MOJUDS are color-keyed to your clothes by the MOJUD HOLLYWOOD FASHION BOARD, composed of three famous fashion-designers to the stars!

Manufactured by

Mock, Judson, Voehringer Co.
GREENSBORO, N. C.

